Woman' Club of Arcadia Installs New Officers With Impressive Ceremonies

Mrs. William Adams, new president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, and members of her executive board were installed by Mrs. Bruce McAbery, a past president, at the recent installation tea in the clubhouse. The colorful ceremony was held on the stage where pastel colored gowns of the ladies blended with the glistening stars in the background.

Mrs. McAbery used the stars and the signs of the zodiac as her theme and as each officer received her charge of office a sign best fitted for her task was assigned her.

Mrs. McAbery said, "Ideals are like stars; you may not reach out and touch them but they will guide you safely to your harbor. And because the women of this club believe that you are as dependable as the stars they have selected you to be their leaders, their guiding stars for the ensuing year. This is a great honor but even a greater responsibility."

Taking office with Mrs. Adams were Mmes. Oscar Chagnon, first vice-president; Leonard C. Brooks, second vice-president; Lawrence Shepherd, corresponding secretary; Philip Sherk, treasurer; Robert Wingo, recording secretary; Albert Stuhrman, federation secretary; Ernest Fuerst, parliamentarian; Joseph Watson, ways and means; Lyman Vollintine, program; James Skinner, senior trustee; Edward Verhoef, junior trustee, and Andrew Heilman, hospitality.

Mrs. Archie Wilson, retiring president, gave the president's pin and gavel to the new president.

Mrs. J. K. Weems, historian, gave a complete report of the club and departments for the year.

Pink cloths were used and arrangements of salmon pink gladioli, pink daisies, white stock and pink candles were at each table, and the new silverware, gifts of the evening department and Juniors, was on display.

Mrs. Heilman was chairman of the tea committee, assisted by Mmes. Tommie Keim, J. T. Foster, Kenneth Martin, George Clinger, J. K. Weems, Merle Parker, Kenneth Campbell, Rose Lane and Charles Johnson.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Adams poured.

Mrs. W. Jones Fetes Visitor From Indonesia

Mrs. Wayne Jones, international hostess for the Women's Club of Arcadia, recently entertained two interesting visitors in her official capacity. They were Mrs. Suyatin Kartowijono from Indonesia, and Mrs. Carmen Madrigal N de Gennette of Costa Rica. Both were participants in the foreign leaders program of the International Educational Exchange Service of the United States Department of State.

Mrs. Kartowijono is visiting in the United States until Aug. 20, and she went direct to San Francisco from the Los Angeles area. She is particularly interested in the work of women's organizations in the field of political education and in the furthering of the economic and social welfare of women.

She observed the organization and functioning of Leagues of Women Voters, women's general service organizations, social welfare agencies, home economic groups, planned parenthood groups, and exchanged ideas with women leaders.

She was most interested in motion pictures and her first appointment made by Mrs. Jones was with the head of a motion picture production company. Mrs. Kartowijono is concerned with the impact of motion pictures on public welfare and morals, and in particular with the films being made for children.

American Life

She gained a deeper understanding of American family and community life as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jones in their home at 546 Arbolado drive, and by attending a family picnic and viewing fireworks on July 4 as the guest of Mrs. Robert Lunche. She also was entertained by Mrs. Lawrence Kelley, chairman of Meals for Millions, Arcadia Junior Woman's club, at a small luncheon.

Mrs. Jones met the visitor at the International Airport, took her to lunch, then followed by a tour of downtown Los Angeles. Reservations were made for her at the Green hotel in Pasadena. When she expressed a wish for Chinese food, the Jones took her to Chinatown in Los Angeles for dinner.

Mrs. Kartowijono is endeavoring to get a law enforced in her country whereby young people must be 18 years of age to marry, hoping thus to prevent the loss of so many girls in childbirth, which she believes is due to their youth.

Teacher

She was born May 9, 1907, in Wartes, Jogjakarta, Central Java, Indonesia, and makes her home in Djakarta, Indonesia, with her husband and six children. She has had teachers' college training and was a teacher in the School of Domestic Science from 1941 to 1955, and headed the Women's Section, Department of Mass Education, Ministry of Education, 1950-55. Is a member of Indonesian Film Censor Board, Advisory Board, Ministry of Labor, chairman of Jajasan Taman Pendidikan Perwari (training center for women), founder of Rukun Isteri, an orphanage, and member of the board of directors, Gedung Wanita Djakarta (nationanl Indonesian women's meeting hall).

In 1945, Mrs. Kartowijono founded, and is chairman of, Perwari, the largest women's organization in Indonesia. Perwari is engaged in educational activities designed to further the economic and social welfare of its members and to prepare them more fully for the responsibilities of citizenship.

Artist

Mrs. Jones also entertained the visitor from Costa Rica, who was particularly interested in alcoholic and mental clinics, hospitals, Parent-Teacher associations, educational and youth centers.

Carmen Madrigal N de Gennette is a well-known artist and is a graduate of the School of Fine Arts in her native country. She also attended State Teachers' College in Missouri and John Hopkins university and taught Spanish literature and Spanish at Goucher university in Maryland.

Indonesian Envoy Visits Southland

ARCADIA — Almost everyone is fascinated by "those far away places with the strange sounding names" and to Mrs. Suyatin Kartowijono of Djakarta, Indonesia, Arcadia, Calif. has a strange sound. Mrs. Kartowijono, whose residence is Tangaubanprahu in Djakarta, recently visited Arcadia and other places in the area at the invitation of the U. S. State Department.

Mrs. Wayne Jones, international hostess for the Arcadia Woman's Club, met the foreign envoy at Los Angeles International Airport where the pair landed before touring City Hall and other civic buildings. During the evening she was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jones in Chinatown.

Civic Projects

This many - faceted Indonesian personality has a fabulous record for civic concern for her fellow countrymen. The wife of a businessman and the mother of six children, whose ages range from 10 to 24, and one grandchild, Mrs. Kartowijono is the founder and chairman of the Perwari, the largest woman's organization in Indonesia.

The educational activities of the Perwari are designed to further the economic and social welfare of its members, preparing them for the responsibility of citizenship. This group is particularly active in political education, and open to women of all parties.

Mrs. Kartowijono is a participant in the foreign leaders program of the International Educational Exchange Service of the U. S. Department of State. Other activities of this retired teacher of the School of Domestic Science in Indonesia, include her work as founder and board member of the Rukun Isteri Orphanage. At present she hold the position of the head of the Women's Section of the Department of Mass Education and Ministy of Education in her country. She also is a member of the Indonesian Film Censor Board and the advisory board of the Ministry of Labor.

While in Arcadia Mrs. Kartowijono showed particular interest in women's organizations in the field of political education, home economics, social welfare and the planned parenthood groups. The exchange of ideas on the impact of motion pictures on public welfare and morals, was of great concern to her.

Tours Hollywood

Mrs. Jones took her guest for a tour of the Motion Pictures Production Co. in Hollywood. During a luncheon at the MGM Studios the visitor had an opportunity to discuss films and censoring with Mr. Vogel, head censor for International Films.

District 12 Garden Clubs Announce Fall Meetings

Mrs. Frank E. Bertholet, district director of California Garden Clubs, Inc., together with her re-elected and re-appointed officers, has scheduled board meetings for the second Thursday of September, October and November, it was announced this week. Additional officers will be appointed within the next few weeks, said Mrs. Bertholet. Board meetings will take place in the Lecture Hall of the Arboretum.

There were 35 chairmen and committee members present at the post-convention board meeting when Mrs. Bertholet gave highlights of the convention activities. The coveted membership trophy presented to the district for the greatest increase in club memberships in California Garden Clubs, Inc., this year was exhibited, creating an incentive for further accomplishments.

Arcadia Club

Arcadia Woman's Club Garden Section is the latest group to join District 12. Their chairman, Mrs. Robert Gardner, and two delegates, Mrs. Karl C. Stephens and Mrs. Ed J. Verhoef, were introduced and welcomed.

The combined state board and district meeting to be held in November will be held at Flamingo hotel in Arcadia. Plans for the meeting were outlined, including a competitive district flower show. Theme for the fall meeting will be "Garden Therapy" and "Need of Garden Centers." Further details will be published in October.

Information Center

The Garden Information Center at the Arboretum, with workers stationed in the general information building and the District 12 workroom, is open each Wednesday morning. During the month of July members of the Ladybugs Garden club were in attendance at these posts; in August the Arcadia Woman's club Garden Section, and in September, the Hastings Ranch Garden club.

The "Fragrant Garden" at the Arboretum will be another activity of interest to all 20 clubs of the district.

Through the efforts of Dr. William S. Stewart, the group offer to assist the Los Angeles Medical Association in establishing such a garden for the sightless was accepted. Among other things, this will include aromatic plants on elevated beds, labels in Braille and a guide rail.

The combined state board and district meeting to be held in November will be held at the Flamingo hotel in Arcadia. Plans for the meeting were outlined, including a competitive district flower show. Theme for the fall meeting will be "Garden Therapy" and "Need of Garden Centers."

The Garden Information Center at the Arboretum, with workers stationed in the general information building and the District 12 workroom, is open each Wednesday morning. During the month of July members of the Ladybugs Garden Club were in attendance at these posts; in August the Arcadia Women's Club Garden Section, and in September, the Hastings Ranch Garden club.

Garden for Sightless

The "Fragrant Garden" at the Arboretum will be another activity of interest to all 20 clubs of the district.

Through the efforts of Dr. William S. Stewart, the group's offer to assist the Los Angeles Medical Association in establishing such a garden for the sightless was accepted. Among other things, this will include aromatic plants on elevated beds, labels in Braille and a guide rail.

Board Discusses Philanthropy Budget for Year

Proposed philanthropy budget for the year came up for discussion at last week's executive board meeting of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, presided over by Mrs. William Adams, president. Mrs. James Skinner was hostess at luncheon for the board members.

Also during the meeting it was decided to again provide ice cream for the Crippled Children's Day Camp being held in Arcadia this week and next, and a date was set for the club's annual membership tea to be held in the clubhouse. Mrs. Earl R. Dettra will be general chairman of the event, Sept. 23.

Next board meeting will be Sept. 3 at the home of Mrs. Oscar Chagnon, first vice-president.

Special Program Held Here for Crippled Children

Day Camp

Activities geared to the needs of each individual child made up the day camp program in Arcadia County Park sponsored by the Crippled Children's Society of Los Angeles County, Inc. The Camp, which ends tomorrow, was made possible through the sale of Easter seals and offered experiences in swimming, nature study, crafts, story telling, with lunch and rest periods.

Counselors from the society supervised activities of the 24 handicapped boys and girls who were between the ages of 4 and 10, and volunteer assistance was provided by various local service groups.

Elks of San Gabriel Valley jointly provided half the transportation, with Arcadia Lions Club supplying transportation for Arcadia youngsters. Alta-dena Dairy supplied milk, and Arcadia Woman's Club furnished ice cream daily.

Wally Novak, supervisor at Arcadia County pool, provided a life guard for the swimming time. Mrs. Raymond Nichols of West Covina

Arcadia Woman's Club Plans Year Under Leadership of Mrs. Wm. Adams

Mrs. William Adams, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, the elected officers, department chairmen with their officers, and committee chairmen have worked diligently during the summer months to plan diversified and interesting activities for every member of the club to enjoy during the coming year. Mrs. Adams has faithfully served the club in many capacities, being junior trustee then senior trustee, recording secretary and last year first vice president. With this experience, an outstanding year is evident.

Members of her board are: Mmes. Oscar Chagnon, first vice president; Leonard C. Brooks, second vice president; Lawrence Shepherd, corresponding secretary; Phillip Sherk, treasurer; Robert Wingo, recording secretary; James Skinner, senior trustee; Edward Verhoef, junior trustee; A. P. Stuhrman, federation secretary; Joseph Watson, ways and means; Lyman Vollintine, program, and Ernest Fuerst, parliamentarian.

At the regular club meeting on the first Wednesday of each month (October to June), luncheon will be provided by caterers with a splendid hour-long program following the business meeting. On the third Wednesday, a buffet luncheon sponsored by members of the board and the ways and means committee will be followed by a short business meeting.

A very fine short program will be presented, after which the members are invited for an afternoon of cards. This will replace the usual card tournament, with door prizes provided by the ways and means committee. Programs running the gamut of theater, antiques, music, books and fashions are varied enough for everyone to be especially pleased during the year, yet carry out the object of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, which is "Intellectual Improvement and Civic Improvement."

District Board

Arcadia will be unusually well represented on the Verdugo District Board, California Federation of Women's Clubs with the following members serving as district chairmen: Mmes. Archie L. Wilson, literature; Alby R. Foy, mental health; Archy F. Slover, page; Joseph C. Parnham, international hostess; M. R. Clark, garden, and John P. Ross, member of the parliamentary law conference committee.

Federation and Reciprocity Day will be on March 5, when Mrs. Guy J. Nelson, president of California Federation of Women's Clubs, will be in attendance. Social evenings on the second Saturday evening of each month are arranged by the social chairman, Mrs. Charles Johnson, for members with or without escort to enjoy a potluck supper and cards. A very special Christmas party has been arranged with a program by Dr. Henry Lyons and his Boy Choristers—"Christmas Carols."

Programs

Mrs. Adams reports splendid programs and stimulating activities have been scheduled to give members specializing in various fields an active year by department chairmen: Mmes. Charles Johnson, arts and crafts; Earl C. Towsley, evening; Robert Gardner, garden and home; D. J. Slattery, international affairs; John Richardson, literature; Archy F. Slover, music, and Edward L. Schaar, juniors. Mrs. Adams is to be junior coordinator with Mrs. D. J. Slattery as senior coordinator of the Junior Woman's Club of Arcadia.

To mention a few, there will be a bazaar by arts and crafts; white Christmas dance by evening, and a flower show by garden and home. Projects planned by the ways and means committee include a rummage sale in November and in February there will be a new thrill awaiting the community when a hobby, antique and collectors' show will be presented. Philanthropy and cultural committee, chairmanned by Mrs. E. J. Fentress, will, after careful consideration, dispense a generous portion of the budget for helping others.

Mrs. Earl Dettra, as membership chairman, and her committee can enthusiastically promise a busy and exciting year to all new members.

Garden Department To Open New Year

Mrs. Charles Johnson, chairman of the arts and crafts department of the Arcadia Woman's Club, will welcome all members to share in the exchange of ideas and to join in the fellowship of the department at the first meeting of the year to be held next Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the clubhouse solarium. Luncheon will be served at 12 noon.

Alice Campbell, program chairman, has planned a varied program for the coming year and one that members will want to share in. Novelty bridge score tallies will be the project for the first meeting.

Arcadia Woman's Club Hears Talk On 'Behind the Scenes' at Fun Meet

Mrs. William Adams, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, welcomed a large number of members and guests at the first "fun meeting" of the year. A delicious salad buffet was served and after the short business meeting Oliver (Ollie) Prickett of the Pasadena Playhouse spoke on "Behind the Scenes."

Mrs. J. C. Parnham read as the devotional a prayer of Peter Marshall which he gave in the United States Senate during World War II sanctifying love of country. The pledge of alligiance was led by Mrs. Daniel Slattery, after which Mrs. A. H. Stuhrman led in the singing of "America" with Miss Mary Valentine accompanying.

Mrs. Archie L. Wilson, Student Loan Committee chairman, gave a report on committee meetings concerning the disposition of the funds in the student loan. Mrs. J. K. Weems spoke in greater detail and moved that the recommendation of the student loan committee and executive board be accepted. The members voted that the money be dispersed for the development of a project to be approved by The Woman's Club of Arcadia and the City Council of Arcadia. Mrs. Adams thanked the luncheon committee headed by Mrs. Joe W. Watson and Mrs. Adams, assisted by: Mrs. Kenneth Martin, Mrs. David G. Shrader, Mrs. Russell Lucas, Mrs. King La-Rogue, Mrs. Lincoln Schick and Mrs. J. C. Parnham. Mrs. E. J. Verhoef in charge of club decorations for the month of October was also thanked

Mrs. Chester Anderson, vice-chairman of the Program Committee, presented Mr. Prickett who has been identified with the Pasadena Playhouse for many years. He told many interesting and oftimes humorous experiences of well known stage, screen and TV personalities on their climb to fame. He said the Pasadena Playhouse is actually a College of Theatre Arts from which students receive degrees of units of study completed. The training and credentials come through the State Board of Education. He said Arcadia should be very proud of the four year scholarships that come through the tryouts at the Arcadia High School and the idea has been copied by other cities in the State. Many of the members stayed for an afternoon of bridge and canasta, enjoying the opportunity of becoming better acquainted. The ways and means committee furnished very lovely door prizes.

TV Education Stressed at Woman's Club Meeting

ARCADIA — If the public schools can not meet the educational needs, TV education may be the solution, Dr. Alonzo Baker told the members of the Arcadia Woman's Club at the opening luncheon meeting of the season.

Dr. Baker, professor of political science and international relations at the College of the Pacific, predicted that one out of two students will attend college in 1967, compared to one out of 25 in 1900.

Mrs. William Adams presided at the meeting, and welcomed members and guests.

The club year book, prepared by Mrs. Thurman Keim and her committee, was distributed. Mrs. Phllip Sherk, treasurer, presented the budget, which was approved.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Lyman G. Vollintine, chairman, who introduced Dr. Baker with his subject of "Coming, A Big Change in American Education."

Garden Clubs of California to Stage Conclave in Arcadia

ARCADIA — State and district officers of California Garden Clubs, Inc., will convene Nov. 21 through 23 in Arcadia, according to Mrs. Frank E. Bertholet, director of District No. 12.

Scheduled Events

Delegates will be treated to a tour of the Huntington Library and Botanical Gardens in San Marino, a performance at Pasadena Community Playhouse, and a tour of the Los Angeles State and County Aboretum. They also will enjoy fine lectures, symposiums and panel discussions to be held at the Flamingo Hotel in Arcadia, headquarters for the conclave.

Due to the excellent cooperation of Dr. William S. Stewart, director, and other board members of the arboretum, a standard flower show will be staged Nov. 23 in the buildings and on the grounds of the arboretum. The theme for the show is "East meets West." Featured will be many fascinating occidental and oriental arrangements as well as fine specimen and educational exhibits. This show will be open to the public.

Communities Represented

There are 20 communities comprising the 12th district. Mrs. Bertholet has received several applications from other groups desiring membership, including the Bulb Society of Los Angeles.

Cities already active include Arcadia, Alhambra, Altadena, Azusa, Baldwin Park, Covina, Duarte, El Monte, Glendora, La Canada, La Puente, Monterey Park, Monrovia, Rosemead, San Gabriel, Pasadena, San Marino, Sierra Madre, South Pasadena and West Covina. These clubs will take part in various activities, including entries and exhibits for the flower show. Mrs. Edna Schoof and Mrs. George Sakoda, outstanding artists and creators of flower arrangements, will lecture and demonstrate.

Hostess Clubs

Hostess clubs for the event will be the Thursday Morning Garden Club in Arcadia and Garden and Home Department of the Arcadia Woman's club; Friends O'Garden, El Monte; Sierra Madre Garden Club and Altadena Garden Club.

Woman's Club of Arcadia Opens New Year With Fine Program, Plans Made

Mrs. William Adams, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, welcomed members and guests to the opening luncheon meeting of the year. Officers, chairmen and committee members were especially recongnized for accomplishments during the summer months. Fall leaves, fruit, flowers and miniature pheasants decorated the clubhouse, being done under direction of Mrs. E. J. Verhoef, chairman of the committee for the month of October.

Members received the club year book, prepared by Mrs. Thurman Keim and committee, detailing information of interest including programs arranged by Mrs. Lyman Vollintine and her committee.

Mrs. Earl Dettra, membership chairman, introduced Mrs. Herbert W. Glidden, new member, and Mrs. King La Roque, former active member who has returned to Arcadia. Budget for the year was presented by Mrs. Phillip Sherk, treasurer and was approved.

"The Autumn Daze Bridge" to be held at the clubhouse on Oct. 17 at 12 o'clock, by the Evening Department was announced by Mrs. Alan Langlois, chairman. Tickets at $1.25 may be secured by calling Mrs. Bert Schaar, HIllcrest 7-7098, who is chairman of this event.

Usuable furniture, lamps, kitchen ware and clothing, with special emphasis on children's apparel is being collected by Ways and Means committee, for rummage sale to be held in Pasadena on Nov. 12-13. Mrs. J. H. Watson, chairman, and Mrs. D. J. Slattery, co-chairman, request members to leave articles at garage of Mrs. H. Lane, or call HIllcrest 7-6243 for pick-up.

Dr. Alonzo Baker, professor of political science and international relations at the College of the Pacific, Stockton, was presented by Mrs. Lyman G. Vollintine, program chairman. Dr. Baker held his large audience in rapt attention by the vivid, informative, and at times, facetious delivery of his subject: "Coming, a Big Change in American Education." His talk was interrupted occasionally by enthusiastic applause. He said we are living in a yearly benzedrine diagram of progression; that one out of 25 attended college in 1900; while it is anticipated that one out of every two will attend in 1967. Thus, a change in the classification of professional, mental and mechanic studies through aptitude tests would be necessary, as well as reevaluation of the artisan trades. He further stated that if schools could not meet the educational needs, TV education might be a possible solution. Also, that there was very aparent need for more consideration, both in the training of teachers and their teaching of the basic fundamentals fo education.

Foreign Visitor Entertained by Club Hostess

Mrs. Wayne Jones, international hostess for the Woman's Club of Arcadia, recently entertained a foreign visitor, who was visiting the United States as a participant in the Foreign Specialists Program of the International Educational Exchange Service of the U. S. Department of State.

The visitor, Dr. Juan S. Netto, is a professor of surgery, School of Medicine, University of Asuncion, Paraguay, South America.

Dr. Netto is particularly interested in thoracic and general surgery, public and voluntary health programs, particularly general programs for youth and specialized programs for heart cases. He is also interested in seeing the art galleries and museums of the United States.

His first day in Los Angeles he spent at the Children's Hospital where he observed surgery and inspected the new types of hospital equipment.

He is married and has three children, so on the second day he visited Disneyland, to be able to report to his children.

He was taken out to dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Jones and on a tour of Hollywood.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs organized a department of international hostesses to assist the State Department in entertaining foreign visitors and to help familiarize them with this country.

United Nations Talk Planned for Club Group

International Affairs Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will meet Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the home of the chairman, Mrs. D. J. Slattery, 3055 Hodges Avenue for a coffee hour and program.

United Nations Week will be observed by the speaker, Mrs. Betty Moore, who will discuss the far-reaching effects of the United Nations.

Woman's Club Music Department to Open Year, Chorus to Be Organized

Music Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Archie Slover, will hold the first meeting of the 1957-58 season tomorrow at the Slover home, 21 Hacienda Drive. The business meeting will be held at 11 a.m. when the new officers will be introduced, and plans discussed for the coming year.

New officers include: Mrs. Clark Bridgman, vice chairman in charge of programs; Mrs. Ariel Hoegee, recording secretary; Mrs. John L. Doyle, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lincoln Schick, financial secretary; Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, hospitality; and Mrs. Joseph C. Parnham, press.

The department chorus, which has had outstanding recognition throughout the district and in local circles, will again be under the inspired direction of Mrs. Thatcher Jordan. Mrs. E. J. Frentress, librarian, will be in charge of musical scores.

Mrs. Slover has announced that the first meeting will be a social and "for fun" meeting and all women of the club who are interested in music will be welcomed. She extends a special invitation to new members of the club who will find this wonderful way to make new and congenial friends. In keeping with the light vein a program of songs from the light opera "My Fair Lady" will be given by two teenagers of the Arcadia High School, Miss Janie Campbell and Gregg Bertram, who will be introduced by Mrs. Schick.

Chorus

Mrs. Jordan will organize the chorus following the meeting and she is hoping that a member of new voices will be added this year, as plans for a 100-voice a cappella chorus has been announced by Mrs. Lee O. Tenney, music chairman for Verdugo District, and the Arcadia Chorus has been named as one of the top three to be chosen to sing in this group.

Her board will assist Mrs. Slover at luncheon. Members are requested to bring sandwiches, dessert and coffee will be served.

The board meetings of the department were held at the chairman's home during the late summer. One a luncheon in August and a more recent one early in October when the board met for coffee and to plan the year's program.

Verdugo District Charimen Hosted At Luncheon by Mrs. Joseph Parnham

Mrs. Joseph Parnham, chairman of International Hostesses for Verdugo District, of the California Federation of Woman's Clubs, recently opened her home at 615 West Longden, Arcadia to district chairmen and presidents interested in the General Federation's program of entertaining international visitors who are in the U. S. as guests of the U. S. State Department.

Great importance is attached to this program by clubwomen all over the United States, who are uniting to provide hospitality and expert guidance by opening their doors with a warm welcome to these official guests, giving them a personal contact and close friendship that will promote mutual understanding and peace, by sharing their daily life with them.

Mrs. Robert Lunche, international hostess for CFWC Juniors, who has worked (or held office) in hostessing for several years, detailed the work to the 20 women present, telling of the choosing of these guests by the State Department, after their names have been recommended by citizen councils in their native countries. This year saw about 40,000 persons (ages 18-65) representing every national background, racial origin and religious belief, visiting in U.S. communities; 5,000 were under the auspices of the State Department and other governmental agencies; nearly 700 teachers from 50 countries studied in 1,450 colleges and universities. These visitors who have been brought into homes and welcomed with friendliness and trust can get so well acquainted that they will have a better understanding and a more favorable attitude toward the United States.

Mrs. Wayne Jones, hostess of the Arcadia Woman's Club, told of her first year's experience in the work and spoke of the cooperation on the part of the press and the interest engendered throughout the community by the four guests the club was able to entertain since January, when the department was established. Following a question period, a delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Parnham at tables set in the patio and pool area and an informal exchange of plans and problems took place with Mrs. Lunche advising from the wealth of her experience. Many expressed the desire to have such a project in their local club and Mrs. Parnham has announced that, since the meeting, at least three new chairmen have been appointed in the Verdugo district.

Presidents attending the luncheon meeting were: Mrs. William Adams, Arcadia Woman's Club; Mrs. E. B. Spence, Highland Park Ebell; Mrs. Paul Calkins, 20th Century Club of Eagle Rock; Mrs. Warren J. Dunlap, Monrovia Woman's Club; Mrs. Robert Green, South Pasadena Woman's Club; Mrs. Richard Barden, Sierra Madre Civic Club, and Miss Mary Sykes, Sierra Madre Woman's Club.

Verdugo District board was represented by Mrs. Thomas Roscoe, Mrs. H. H. Bohn and Mrs. Parnham. International affairs and hostess chairmen present were Mrs. Carolyn Tabor of Wednesday Morning Club of Los Angeles; Mrs. Daniel Nearo, Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale; Mrs. Walter E. Irwin, Monrovia Woman's Club; Mrs. Wayne Jones, Arcadia Woman's Club; Mrs. Don Richardson, Pasadena Woman's Club; Mrs. Ray Buchanan and Mrs. John Marshall, Altadena Woman's Club; Mrs. Mary Struthers, Sierra Madre Civic Club. A prospective hostess chairman and Mrs. Louise Judson of Highland Uark Ebell were also guests.

ARCADIA WOMAN'S CLUB SECTIONS STAGE FIRST MEETINGS OF YEAR

ARCADIA — The first meeting of the club year for the literature department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia was held Friday in the clubhouse on S. First avenue.

Mrs. John Richardson, department chairman, welcomed the guests. A coffee hour preceded the business meeting. Mrs. William Adams, president of the Arcadia Woman's Club, was introduced and welcomed.

Mrs. Archie Wilson, junior past president, was introduced as the new district federation chairman of literature.

A committee to revise the by-laws for the department was formed. Mrs. John T. Simpson, a past president of the club, will head the group.

Mrs. Wood Glover, acting in the absence of Mrs. Bruce McAbery, program chairman, presented an interesting travelogue of her trip through the southwest.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth and silver service and centered with a large spray of colorful autumn leaves and gold ribbon. Silver candelabra with yellow tapers flanked the centerpiece.

The arts and crafts department of the Arcadia Woman's Club began its club year with a meeting last week. Mrs. Charles Johnson, chairman, welcomed the guests.

The morning project was the making of novelty bridge score tallies of glitter and lace. A brief business meeting was conducted.

Luncheon-Card Event to Aid Flower Show

ARCADIA — The proceeds from a luncheon and card party to be staged Oct. 30 will help defray expenses of the flower show scheduled for November by the California Garden Clubs, Inc., at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum, Arcadia.

Mrs. E. J. Verhoef, 380 W. Camino Real, Arcadia, has offered the facilities of her lovely home for the event. Activities will get underway at 11:30 a.m.

Members of garden clubs affiliated with California Garden Clubs, Inc., are especially invited to attend the party. Card games and a tour of the greenhouse and spacious grounds will be featured. Door prizes will be awarded.

Reservations are requested by Monday, Oct. 28. A donation of $1 is requested. Accenting reservations is Mrs. Verhoef, HI. 7-7075.

EVENING DEPARTMENT PLANS WHITE CHRISTMAS BENEFIT

Plans are now being made for the sixth annual "White Christmas Ball" to be held on Saturday evening, Dec. 14th, at the Altadena Town and Country Club by the Evening Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia. This affair is always a highlight of the Christmas social season and is eagerly awaited each year by members and friends of the department.

Mrs. Earl C. Towsley, chairman of the Evening Department, wishes to remind those interested to "circle the date on their calendars" for a delightful evening of dining and dancing to the music of Sidney Zaid's orchestra. This year the ball will benefit the Arcadia Child Health Council. The Health Council furnishes financial aid to underprivileged children of the Arcadia Unified School District for the care of teeth, eyes and tonsils. Other medical services are also arranged where conditions warrant. Last year the Methodist Hospital of Southern California was the recipient of funds raised at the benefit.

Mrs. Towsley has appointed Mrs. C. R. Niederhaus as general chairman with Mrs. George Derry as chairman of decorations. Others on the committee are Mmes. Robert Titgemeyer, Anthony Anger, Robert Dennis, William Scheuer, R. Earl Hadaday, William Moore, Kevin Turner, Earl C. Towsley and Bert Schaar.

Invitations for a limited number of guests will be in the mail shortly.

Chorus Slates Practice

ARCADIA — Members of the a capella choir of the Woman's Club of Arcadia soon are to start rehearsals for an appearance of special importance next spring.

Director Named

Rehearsing under direction of Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, the choir has been scheduled to appear for the first time as a part of a combined chorus. The event is to be a convention, with the Arcadians a part of the 100 voice chorus to be featured on the program. The other choral groups appearing with them will be from other clubs in Verdugo District, CFWC.

The Arcadia Club's a capella choir, voted a top group in the state, will entertain with a concert for their own club early in the spring. This will be at the reciprocity day party. In the past this comparatively new choir has appeared at the Green Hotel and at the state conclave held at the Biltmore.

Choir Members

Working with the vocalists in addition to Mrs. Jordan are Mrs. Leonard Cartwright and Miss Mary Valentine, accompanists. The choir is comprised of Mmes. Le Roy Anderson, Ronald Bennet, Clark Bridgman, Leonard Cartwright, John Doyle, E. J. Frentress, Albert Green, Thatcher Jordan, Alfred La Ray, Bruce McAbery, Lincoln Schick, Archie Slover, Charles Stewart, Ahlbert Stuhrman, Harvey Thombs, M. M. Trew and Lyman Vollintine.

Arcadia Woman's Club Hears Talk On 'Behind the Scenes' at Fun Meet

Mrs. William Adams, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, welcomed a large number of members and guests at the first "fun meeting" of the year. A delicious salad buffet was served and after the short business meeting Oliver (Ollie) Prickett of the Pasadena Playhouse spoke on "Behind the Scenes."

Mrs. J. C. Parnham read as the devotional a prayer of Peter Marshall which he gave in the United States Senate during World War II sanctifying love of country. The pledge of alligiance was led by Mrs. Daniel Slattery, after which Mrs. A. H. Stuhrman led in the singing of "America" with Miss Mary Valentine accompanying.

Mrs. Archie L. Wilson, Student Loan Committee chairman, gave a report on committee meetings concerning the disposition of the funds in the student loan. Mrs. J. K. Weems spoke in greater detail and moved that the recommendation of the student loan committee and executive board be accepted. The members voted that the money be dispersed for the development of a project to be approved by The Woman's Club of Arcadia and the City Council of Arcadia. Mrs. Adams thanked the luncheon committee headed by Mrs. Joe W. Watson and Mrs. Adams, assisted by: Mrs. Kenneth Martin, Mrs. David G. Shrader, Mrs. Russell Lucas, Mrs. King La-Rogue, Mrs. Lincoln Schick and Mrs. J. C. Parnham. Mrs. E. J. Verhoef in charge of club decorations for the month of October was also thanked

Mrs. Chester Anderson, vice-chairman of the Program Committee, presented Mr. Prickett who has been identified with the Pasadena Playhouse for many years. He told many interesting and oftimes humorous experiences of well known stage, screen and TV personalities on their climb to fame. He said the Pasadena Playhouse is actually a College of Theatre Arts from which students receive degrees of units of study completed. The training and credentials come through the State Board of Education. He said Arcadia should be very proud of the four year scholarships that come through the tryouts at the Arcadia High School and the idea has been copied by other cities in the State. Many of the members stayed for an afternoon of bridge and canasta, enjoying the opportunity of becoming better acquainted. The ways and means committee furnished very lovely door prizes.

Arcadians Greet Noted Foreign Editor on Visit to Ronstad Home

Several Arcadia women were among those who greeted Alioune Diop, director and editor of Presence Africaine (monthly review of African affairs and artistic accomplishments) and its allied publications, upon his recent visit at the Arcadia home of Mrs. Joseph E. Ronstad, 6641 Barela Ave.

Included in the group were Mrs. Joseph Parnham, Arcadia's international hostess for the Verdugo District of Woman's Clubs; Mrs. William Adams, Arcadia Woman's Club, and Mrs. Robert Rowell.

In answering the various questions put to him, the quiet-spoken, 47-year-old editor discussed the formation of a United States of Africa, culturally speaking. He told of the formation of the Society of African Culture, which met in Paris last December. At this time more than 200 writers, artists, philosophers and intellectuals met with the hope of taking the best of African culture and creating a new national culture for all Africa. Diop felt that this would lead to political and social change on his continent.

Education

When asked about women and their place in society, he stated that theoretically both boys and girls were expected to attend school, but because of the lack of funds and facilities, education was sadly lacking in his country. However, women are encouraged to continue their education so that they may better understand the problems which their husbands will face in the years to come.

Mr. Diop, who is at present living with his family in Paris, is a lecturer at the Sorbonne in addition to his duties as editor and publisher. He was born in Senegal, French West Africa and served as a senator from his country to the French Senate.

Invited

Mr. Diop, who recently visited in Russia as a guest of the Russian government, is here on the invitation of the State Department, Committee for Foreign leaders and specialists.

While here he also was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Horn of Arcadia.

Arcadia Club Hears Noted Actor Speak

ARCADIA — Oliver Prickett, long familiar to audiences of the Pasadena Playhouse as well as to motion picture and television viewers, was guest speaker last week at the meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club.

Relates Experiences

Introduced by Mrs. Chester Anderson, vice chairman of the program committee, Prickett spoke on the rise to fame of several well known stage, screen and TV personalities and on their many interesting and sometimes humorous experiences.

The actor, explained that Pasadena Playhouse is a college of theater arts offering degrees, its training and credentials coming from the state board of education. He concluded by saying Arcadia should be proud of the four year scholarships resulting from tryouts at the local high school.

Mrs. William Adams, club president, welcomed guests at this first "fun" meeting of the year. Mrs. J. C. Parnham gave the devotional and Mrs. A. H. Stuhrman, accompanied by Miss Mary Valentine, led in the singing of "America."

Fund Disposition

Mrs. Archie L. Wilson, student loan committee chairman, reported on the sessions concerning disposition of funds in student loans. Mrs. J. K. Weems gave further details, with members voting that the money dispersed for development of a project meet the approval of both the woman's club and the Arcadia City Council.

The luncheon committee for the day was headed by Mrs. Joe W. Watson and Mrs. Adams. On their committee were Mmes. Kenneth Martin, David G. Schrader, Russell Lucas, King La Rogue, Lincoln Schick, and J. C. Parnham. Mrs. E. J. Verhoef supervised decorations.

MRS. ARCHY SLOVER TO HOST MUSIC DEPARTMENT FOR FIRST MEETING

A large and enthusiastic group of members and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Archie Slover, chairman of the department, last week for the opening meeting of the Music Department of the Arcadia Woman's Club. Preceding the business meeting songs from the light opera "My Fair Lady" were presented by two teen-age artists who attend Arcadia High School.

Miss Jane Campbell, daughter of the Melvin Campbells, is making theatre and entertainment her major interest and her talent in this field was well attested in her portrayal of the ingenue role in "Thieves' Carnival," a Community Theatre production, carlier this year. The popular miss has recently been elected secretary of the Freshman Class.

Gregg Bertram, also a freshman at AHS, is the son of Mrs. Estella Bertram, 1651 Elevado, Arcadia. Although piano is his major and he excels in this field of music, he has been active in all operettas at First Avenue and uses much showmanship and knowledge of theatre in his presentation of light numbers, such as the program presented. He expects to work with Worvelle Fiore, Music Department of First Avenue School, throughout the four high school years.

Opening their program with "Wouldn't it be Loverly" sung by Jane and followed by "Why Can't a Woman be Like a Man" by Gregg, the young people captivated their audience with their interpretations of "Liza" and Prof. Henry Higgins. Their dialogue to the singing proved delightful and brought tremendous applause. Other numbers sung by Jane were "Just You Wait, Henry Higgins" and "Without You," and Gregg sang "I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face."

Guests

Among the guests present at the affair were Jane's mother, Mrs. M. Campbell, and her grandmother, Mrs. Melvin Campbell Sr. of Dobbs Ferry, N.Y., who arrived from the east several weeks ago to spend the winter with her son and family at 301 San Luis Rey Road, Arcadia.

The Music Department will again be a patron of the San Gabriel Valley Light Opera Association, feeling that this one way to achieve their objectives of promoting talent among the youth and the perpetuation of the cultural aspects of our community. Mrs. Thatcher Jordan anticipates a stimulating experience for the chorus group, which she directs, when it joins with other district choruses under the direction of J. Arthur Lewis of Los Angeles early next year to form a 100-voice a cappella group which will sing at the CFWC State Convention.

Delicious hot apple pie with individual pumpkin molds of tangy cheese were served by the department board following a sandwich luncheon.

Mrs. Slover extended special greetings to Mrs. William Adams, club president, who had honored the department with her presence at their first meeting of the year.

Evening Group Welcomes Guests, Enjoys Program

Evening Department of the Women's Club of Arcadia met at the home of Mrs. Joseph W. Scheuer and enjoyed a most interesting program arranged by Mrs. Bert Schaar, presenting Mr. Hendricks of Hendricks Fur Salon in Monrovia. Mr. Hendricks gave tips on the selection and care of furs. The highlight of the program was the modeling of the beautiful mink stoles by Mrs. William Scheuer, Mrs. Alan Langlois and Mrs. Robert Titgemeyer. A question and answer period concluded the program.

Mrs. Earl C. Towsley, chairman of the department, introduced the guests, Mrs. William Adams, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, Mrs. James Skinner, senior trustee of the Woman's Club and Mrs. Ken Brayton. A new member, Mrs. Robert Clark, was also presented. The members voted to become patrons of the San Gabriel Valley Light Opera Association and of the San Gabriel Valley Symphony Association and to participate in the Arcadia White Christmas.

Mrs. Robert Wagner and Mrs. Doyle Lindley assisted Mrs. Joseph C. Scheuer as hostesses for the evening.

$1,000 Given For Wilderness Camp

ARCADIA — The Woman's Club of Arcadia presented a check for $1000 to the City of Arcadia, to be used in the development of the day camp in the "wilderness area."

Mrs. William Adams, president of the organization, made the presentation to Mayor Robert F. Dennis, at the meeting of the City Council last night.

The fund will be used on a project in the park, agreed upon by the council and the club.

The money was previously allocated to a student loan fund under the Build Freedom with Youth project, in which the club participated in 1951. It was stipulated that it could be diverted later to other authorized youth projects.

Since there have been no recent requests for use of the funds, the membership, on recommendation of the Student Loan Committee and the executive board, voted the money to the project.

A balance of approximately $100 will be given to the campership fund.

Members of the Student Loan Committee are Mrs. Archie L. Wilson, chairman, Mrs. Charles Ganther, Mrs. Ralph Hankins, Mrs. Earl C. Towsley, and Mrs. J. K. Weems.

The Junior Woman's Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Edward L. Schaar, also plans to support the project.

Rummage Sale Planned for Next Week By Arcadia Woman's Club Committee

The Ways and Means Committee of the Woman's Club of Arcadia met at the home of the Chairman Mrs. J. W. Watson last week, to formulate plans for the year.

The hostess served delicious sweet rolls and coffee to the 21 guests present. Many of the members brought gaily wrapped packages for the rummage sale and this added to the festive air of the meeting. As the committee members met each other and learned of the projects in which they will be working together, the spirit of enthusiasm became contagious.

The first money making event will be a rummage sale which will be held at 34 South Fair Oaks, Pasadena, on Nov. 12 and 13. The clubhouse will be open after noon on Monday to accommodate those who wish to bring rummage.

The Ways and Means together the Executive Board are providing the buffet luncheons at the second meeting of each month during the club year.

On Feb. 12 and 13, the committee will present a hobby, antique and collectors' show. Any one with an interesting or unusual hobby or collection may enter. Additional information may be had by contacting Mrs. Watson at ELgin 5-3058.

Those present were: Mmes. Willian Adams, president; D. J. Slattery, vice chairman of ways and means; George W. Blanchard, Homer W. Brown, John Frazier, Charles Ganther, William D. Gibbs, Wood Glover, Raymond D. Godfrey, R. E. Hadady, Frank B. Havens, Thomas R. Hughes, Palmer C. Ickes, Robert H. Lane, King LaRocque, Russell H. Lucas, Thomas H. McDowell, Robert C. Neill, David C. Shrader, Lawrence V. Shepherd, and Miss Katherine O. Bracher.

Those unable to be present were Mmes. Clark Bridgman, Leo K. Campbell, Elmer L. Hodson, William T. Hubbs, Duncan M. MacDonald, G. C. Ford, Bert Schaar and Harvey Thombs.

President Donates $1000 Check

ARCADIA — Mrs. William Adams, president of Arcadia Woman's Club, Tuesday night presented Mayor Robert Dennis with a check for $1000 as a club donation for a day camp in the wilderness area now being developed by the city.

The money was put into a student loan fund under the build freedom with youth project in which the club participated in 1951 with the stipulation that it could be diverted at a later date to other authorized youth projects.

Day Camp

John Panatier, recreation director, said he and leaders of youth groups felt that the day camp was the most urgent need at present.

Since there has been no recent requests for the use of this fund, the membership on recommendation of the student loan committee and the executive board, voted at the last meeting to divrt the money to this project which will be advantageous to the children of the community.

Arcadia Club Marks Date for Christmas Ball

ARCADIA — Long-awaited White Christmas Ball of the Evening Department of the Arcadia Woman's Club is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 14, at the Altadena Town and Country Club.

The gala semi-formal affair, sixth annual event of its kind for the clubwomen, has Mrs. C. P. Niederhaus as general chairman. Mrs. George Derry will supervise elaborate decor. Mrs. R. W. Titgemeyer is chairman of reservations.

Mrs. R. E. Hadady heads the committee planning the cocktail party at the Altadena clubhouse. This social hour will launch an evening spotlighted by dinner at 8:30 p.m. and dancing until 1:30 to the music of Sidney Zaid and his orchestra.

Proceeds from this extra special party, according to Mrs. Earl Towsley, Evening Department chairman, go to the Arcadia Child Health Council.

PTA Council Members Give Reports; White Christmas Plans Announced

Reports of many successful PTA activities were on the agenda for the November meeting of the Arcadia PTA Council with Mrs. Gilbert Starkenburg, president, presiding. Completion of the pre-school census, together with membership enrollments, window painting supervision and staging of many carnivals, kept the school personnel, PTA officers, chairmen and members more than busy.

Mrs. Starkenburg announced plans for the White Christmas program and asked that checks be sent from all units now so that food can be bought for the baskets to be distributed. Toys needing repairs are to be taken to the Arcadia Thrift and Welfare Shop at 321 N. First Ave. These will be repaired by a group from the High school. Mrs. Starkenburg urged anyone wishing to help to gather used toys and take them in as soon as possible. A combined meeting of Council White Christmas committee and Thrift Shop White Christmas committee is to be held to complete plans.

Resignation of Mrs. V. M. Nelson as Council record-book chairman was accepted with regret. Appointment of Mrs. Al Repan was ratified.

Mrs. Leslie Ball, membership chairman, reported a total of 4896 women and 3261 men, bringing the membership in Arcadia units to 8157, with a reminder that the enrollment will continue until March, 1958. Posters used at the various units for membership enrollment were on display. These showed great originality and clever ideas used to encourage the children to return the membership envelopes. Some of these were "Around the World with PTA," using gondolas to show progress; "To the Moon and Beyond," "Jack and the Beanstalk," "Three Bears," "Space-O-Rama," "Build PTA Strength," "Pop-eye," with strength-giving cans of spinach moving forward on poster; "PTA Round-Up," using cowboys on horses roping steers; "Frontier Days," every room a full cargo with saddle bags filled with golden money; "Lollipop Trees" and "Sports Car Race."

Arthur L. Tucker reported on the successful Blood Bank in Arcadia with 264 pints obtained. Dr. William M. Staerkel, superintendent, thanked all PTA members for their cooperation in the pre-school census and asked assistance in the tabulating of the results. A group of Council members worked to complete this.

Mrs. Starkenburg announced that Mrs. F. B. Barbour, chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee of the Monrovia Health Center, has sent letters of invitation to all unit presidents to have health chairmen attend the monthly meetings to become acquainted with what the County Health Department has to offer. Their program covers everything from pre-natal clinics and well-baby conferences to communicable diseases for school children and adults, including medical-social work and sanitation.

Publicity

Mrs. Karl Stephens, publicity chairman, reported on the fine cooperation of all newspapers in the area and publicly expressed appreciation of the entire PTA of Arcadia for their willingness to devote space to the reporting of activities of all units and Council.

The Evening Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, with Mrs. Earl C. Towsley as chairman, is having its "White Christmas Dance" on Dec. 14, with all proceeds going to the Arcadia Child Health Council. It is to be at the Altadena Town and Country Club and ticket reservations close Dec. 5. The Child Health Council has been in urgent need of financial assistance and Mrs. Starkenburg, in making the announcement, expressed appreciation of the PTA Council to the Evening Department for its cooperation.

Federation Chairmen Honored at Woman's Club Luncheon-Meeting

Mrs. William Adams, president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, welcomed a large group of members and guests at the regular luncheon meeting in the clubhouse last week. Federation chairmen were honored and reports of their respective activities were given.

Mrs. J. B. Atkisson, Verdugo district, California Federation of Woman's Clubs, Conservation and Natural Resources chairman, spoke dynamically on her subject, "Heart of the Matter." She displayed the awards received by the District, "Pennies for Pines" and "You Planted Trees."

The award read, "The Penny Pines collection made by your organization will re-forest an area for watershed and lumber management. On behalf of the U.S. Forest Service and Angeles National Forest, we wish to commend the Verdugo District, California Federation of Woman's Clubs, for its second contribution to the future of California National Forest." The contribution included that made by the Woman's Club of Arcadia.

Mrs. A. P. Stuhrman, federation secretary, presented the following chairmen: Mmes. John Richardson, Americanism; Wood Glover, Bible; William I. Baumann, legislation and government; Bruce G. McAbery, national defense and safety; Alan Langlois, youth conservation; Alby R. Foy, mental health, and Joseph C. Parnham, district chairman of International Hostess, reporting for Mrs. Wayne W. Jones, club secretary, who was not present.

Mrs. Parnham gave interesting highlights on the many international visitors who have been entertained by this committee.

Mrs. Alby Foy, also district chairman of mental health, distributed two informative brochures entitled "Twelve Facts About Mental Illness" and "Some Things You Should Know About Mental and Emotional Illness." She serves as a connecting link between local clubs, District, State Federation and General Federation of Woman's Clubs, whose aims are to make communities and states better places in which to live. She said, "The Federation does not play politics but tries to promote legislation that improves living conditions for all citizens. There are endless possibilities to aid in the field of mental health, as with 650,000 patients in mental hospitals today, the problem should receive more assistance from more sources."

Emblem of the California Federation of Woman's Clubs was described by Mrs. Stuhrman as follows: The torch represents the educational work of the Federation, the wings pointing upward symbolize the aspirations which are the aims of all members, the band encircling both typifies the unbroken chain of strength and loyalty. The state motto "Strength United is Stronger" is a reminder that in unity there is strength, and through the united efforts of the club women of California it is possible to accomplish many things for the benefit of the people of the State.

Mrs. Adams announced that the Junior Woman's Club would sell candy at the Nov. 20 meeting to help with their philanthropy project of buying toys for emotionally disturbed children at Hathaway House.

Mrs. Lyman Vollintine, program chairman, presented David Glismann, baritone, his wife, Marjorie, and Dr. Robert Trotter, pianist-accompanist, who charmed the audience with a delightful concert.

The Glissmanns in duet opened the program with Mozart's aria, "La Ci Darem La Mano" from the opera "Don Giorannia." This was followed by each appearing in solo in a group of enchanting French peasant numbers. The first group of numbers was concluded by Marjorie and David singing in duet a selection from the folk opera "Porgy and Bess."

Dr. Trotter presented three piano numbers starting with Mendelssohn's Scherza in "E" Minor and ending with "Perpetual Motion" by Poulance.

The last group of songs were given by the Glissmanns in keeping with their theme, "Sweethearts of Song," including "Why Do I Love You" from "Show Boat," "Make Believe" and "Sweethearts" from Victor Herbert's opera of the same name.

All three artists accompanied their offerings with an informative and witty commentary which added to their well planned and executed program.

Arcadia Club Members Hear History of Women Discussed

ARCADIA — A history of woman, from the time of the origin of the word "female" until the present time was presented last Wednesday by Anne Reher, guest speaker at the Arcadia Woman's Club.

Introduced by Mrs. Lyman Vollintine, program chairman, the speaker stressed the difficulties which womankind has had to face throughout the years in obtaining recognition as an individual.

Luncheon Fete

A salad bar luncheon was served under supervision of executive board members, Mmes. Oscar Chagnon and Leonard C. Brooks assisted by ways and means committee members, Mmes. William T. Hubbs, George W. Blanchard, John Frazier and Russell H. Lucas.

The meeting honored the philanthropy and cultural department with Mrs. E. J. Fentress as committee chairman. Also introduced were Mmes. J. K. Weems, vice chairman, Robert J. Gardner, Charles L. Johnson, John Richardson, D. J. Slattery, Archie F. Slover, J. C. Timmons, Earl C. Towsley. Mrs. Jack Moore, chairman of the evening department, and Mrs. Edward Scharr, juniors' president, also were honored.

New Members

New members were introduced by Mrs. Earl Dettra, membership chairman. Neophytes presented were Mmes. Esther Hanna, Alden Melvian, John Le Noir and Ken Brayton.

Mrs. William Adams, president, conducted the business session which followed a festive luncheon featuring a Thanksgiving motif in table appointments.

Evening Department to Hold Annual Christmas Party at Turner Home

Evening Department of the Women's Club of Arcadia met last Monday at the home of Mrs. R. E. Hadady for the regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Earl C. Towsley, chairman of the department, announced that the annual Christmas party would be held Dec. 16 at the home of Mrs. Kelvin Turner.

Members brought Christmas paper, ribbons and boxes for the gifts for the "Half Orphans;" the annual Christmas project of the Evening Department. Mrs. Jack Moore and Mrs. Alan Langlois reported on the purchase of gifts for the children and skirts for the teen-age girls. The Department will provide gifts for more than two hundred children this year. All members are requested to be at the Women's Clubhouse Monday, Dec. 9 from 9:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. to wrap the packages.

Chairman

Mrs. R. E. Hadady is the chairman of the bridge tournament to start in January. The husbands of the members will be their partners in this tournament and it promises to be a real fun activity.

The guest speaker of the evening was Mrs. Bruce G. McAbery who gave a most interesting and amusing review of "The Best of the Ladies Home Journal's 73 Years." Mrs. McAbery traced the Editorial Policy of the Journal from its inception in 1893 as a column in the Tribune and Farmer to the present day. Pictures were shown of the styles of 1913 including a Ball gown for $3 and plans for a three story, nine room house to be built for $2,000 in 1898.

Refreshments

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hadady, Mrs. K. A. Hagberg and Mrs. James E. Kercheval to the following members and guests; Mmes. Earl C. Towsley, George M. Derry, Clifton Niederhaus, Jack M. Wagner, D. Brayton, Robert W Titgemeyer, Anthony W. Anger Jack Moore, James P. Frazier Robert Clark, Alan Langlois, Car S. Hoglund, William W. Moore Mrs. D. ARTS DEPARTMENT

Arts and Crafts Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will meet Tuesday, Dec. 10, at 10 a.m. in the solarium of the clubhouse. The group will make Christmas angels and decorations for the home. Some material may be purchased at the meeting, but members are asked to bring felt, tinsel, glue, scissors and pins.

'The Cameos' Give Fine Program for Music Department at Anyta Doyles'

Mrs. Anyta Doyle, for the third consecutive year, entertained the Music Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia for its November meeting in her beautiful Santa Anita Highlands home. At the conclusion of the program, the hostess served a delicious turkey dinner. A short chorus rehearsal was held under the direction of Mrs. Thatcher Jordan followed by a short business meeting presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Archie Slover. Following this, Mrs. Marion Bridgeman introduced the program of the day.

The group was privileged to hear Sally Manley, soprano, and Ann Stephens, contralto singing operatic solos and duets ably accompanied by Virginia Stuhrman at the piano. Miss Manley opened the program with two numbers 'Pace Pace' and 'The Sleigh.' Miss Stephens followed with 'Seguedilla' and 'This is a New Christmas Morning.' The singers closed with two lovely duets; 'The Flower Song' from Madame Butterfly and the 'Evening Prayer' from Hansel and Gretel. These talented artists are known professionally as "The Cameos" and have presented their outstandingly Beautiful "Profiles in Music" to many clubs throughout the San Gabriel Valley.

At the close of the musical portion of the program, members and guests of the Music Department had the honor of meeting world renown dancer, Ruth St. Denis who is a house guest of the hostess. She spoke to the group, reminiscing a bit and also citing her plans of the future. Miss St. Denis, who helped to make professional dancing a recognized art in America, has devoted her talents of late years, mainly to religious dance and pageants. She is now collaborating with authoress and composer, Gracia Caines of Arcadia in presenting 'Behold! The Radiance,' which will be given in the sanctuary of the Church of the Good Shepherd on Dec. 22.

GARDEN DEPARTMENT

Home and Garden Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will meet Wednesday at 11:30 a.m. at the clubhouse. Members are asked to bring a sandwich. Coffee and tea will be served.

There will be no program for this meeting but all members are asked to bring a small home-grown plant for a "holiday exchange" among members.

Club Department Asks Bicycles For Children

The Evening Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia has been requested by the County Welfare Department for three bicycles for three little girls living in foster homes. The girls are 7 and 8 and the department will take care of minor repairs.

The foster mother of the girls has a daughter of her own and would like to buy her a bicycle but feels that she cannot if the other girls do not have them. The little girls' mother is dead and their father is in prison for a long term.

The department feels that the bikes will be a moral boost for the little girls.

A 26-inch boy's bike has also been requested from the department.

Anyone wishing to assist in this project is asked to call Mrs. Jack Moore at HIllcrest 7-4885.

Arcadia Clergy Honored at Club's Annual Luncheon Fete

ARCADIA — The Woman's Club of Arcadia was praised Wednesday for its service to local churches by Dr. J. Davis Barnard, pastor of the Arcadia Presbyterian Church. Dr. Barnard, speaker at the club's annual luncheon for clergymen, disclosed that the club gatherings are the only occasions when ministers from all churches in the city meet together over luncheon tables.

Mrs. William Adams, club president, conducted the brief business session. Mrs. Joseph Parnham, presented as new Bible chairman, introduced the large crowd of ministers and their wives attending.

Honored Guests

The list included the Rev. Henry Lewis Ewan, rector at the Church of the Transfiguration, Episcopal, who offered the benediction, and his wife; the Rev. Bennie C. Flint, First Baptist, who gave devotions, and his wife; The Rev. and Mrs. Lyndell Cheeves, Arcadia Church of Christ; the Rev. and Mrs. I. Warren Anderson, Community Church of God; the Rev. and Mrs. Edwin R. Howard, Congregational; the Rev. and Mrs. A. Lonard Gilmour, Friends Church, and the Rev. and Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, Church of the Good Shepherd, Methodist.

Others present were Bishop, and Mrs. McEwan, Church of Latter Day Saints; the Rev. and Mrs. William H. Clayton, Community Four-Square; the Rev. and Mrs. Clair Wiederhoft, Lutheran; the Rev. and Mrs. Joe Stockett, Church of the Nazarene; the Right Rev. Msgr. Gerald O'Keeffe, Holy Angels Catholic Church; the Rev. George Elder, Arcadia Christian Church, and Dr. and Mrs. Barnard.

Mrs. A. L. Weikert of the club's Arts and Crafts Department presented the clergymen's wives with corsages of Christmas bells, glitter and silk net.

Effective Setting

The Arts and Crafts Department also was responsible for the attractively arranged luncheon tables. "Christmas in Different Lands" was motif. Authentic decorations carried out the theme in lighting, cloths and other appointments. Members of the department, working under supervision of Mrs. Charles Johnson, chairman, also set up a Christmas bazaar in the clubhouse.

Mrs. William Gibbs, hospitality chairman, had members of her committee serving as individual hostesses assigned to each of the ministers and their wives for the luncheon and program.

Mrs. Lyman Vollintine presented Rod McLean, humorist, as afternoon speaker.

His address was entitled "The Whimsey Report."

Serving on the ticket committee were Mrs. C. F. Noack, chairman, and Mmes. Rose Lane, vice chairman; Russell Augspurger, Freman E. Gates, Ralph I. George and Edwin Kaurin.

Club Holding Yule Party

ARCADIA — The Woman's Club of Arcadia will hold the annual Christmas party Saturday evening, Mrs. William Adams, president, announced today.

Potluck dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock in the clubhouse, followed by an exchange of gifts.

Dr. John Henry Lyons and his Boy Choristers will present a program of Christmas carols at 8 o'clock.

Bridge and canasta will be played later in the evening, Mrs. Adams said.

Members planning to attend are asked to call Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. Lyman Vollintine, or Mrs. Oscar Chagnon.

Speaker Anne Reher Presented at Meeting of Arcadia Woman's Club

Mrs. Lyman Vollintine, program chairman of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, presented Anne Reher, well known platform lecturer, who spoke at last week's meeting on "Sugar and Spice." The talk was an informative and entertaining narration on the history of the female sex from the beginning of time.

Although women encountered many vicissitudes in their fight for progress and recognition, said Mrs. Reher, many claims to fame also have been awarded, particularly in the field of geniuses. Although men outnumber women in this group, it must be recognized that the women produce these geniuses. The speaker was sponsored by the Philanthropy and Cultural Committee through the courtesy of the General Petroleum Corp. as their contribution to the philanthropy program of the club.

Budget

The yearly budget of the committee was presented by the chairman, Mrs. E. J. Fentress, and was approved at the regular meeting with Mrs. William Adams, president, presiding. The club budgeted $1000 to be distributed to many local drives, including three camperships, $75 to the San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony Assn., $50 for Life Membership in the Methodist Hospital Auxiliary, with $500 allocated to a scholarship fund giving preference to fine arts and science applicants.

Serving on this committee with Mrs. Fentress are Mmes. L. K. Weems, vice-chairman, Robert Gardner, Charles L. Johnson, John Richardson, D. J. Slattery, Archie F. Slover, I. C. Timmons and Earl Towsley.

Mrs. Lillian Dahl, philanthropy chairman of the Junior club, gave a report of the club's projects including toys to emotionally disturbed children at Hathaway Home, for which candy was sold before and after the meeting.

The Evening department philanthropy chairman, Mrs. Jack Moore, displayed skirts made by members and each year provided for half-orphan girls.

Decor

Festive decorations in Thanksgiving motif were arranged by Mrs. Charles L. Killingsworth, chairman, and her committee.

Mrs. Earl Dettra, membership chairman, presented new members to be welcomed: Mmes. Aldon L. Melzian, Esther M. Hanna, Ken Brayton, Harry Pon and John M. LeNoir.

The salad bar luncheon was served by executive board members, Mrs. Oscar Chagnon and Mrs. Leonard C. Brooks, and ways and means committee members, Mmes. William T. Tubbs, George W. Blanchard, John Frazier and Russell H. Lucas. Assisting also were Mmes. C. J. Otterholm, Herbert Glidden, Ariel Hoegee, Lawrence Fry, Edward Olmstead, Robert E. Gee and Jack Burge.

Mrs. Adams announced that the Dec. 18 meeting will be a Christmas party, participated in by members of all departments with an exchange of gifts of $1 to $1.50 value with name of giver enclosed.

Woman's Club Evening Department Wraps Christmas Gifts for Children in Foster Homes in SG Valley

Visions of beautifully wrapped packages and happy children will gladden the hearts of members of the Evening Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia this Christmas season. The group's chief project of the year, that of making clothes and collecting articles for half-orphans in the San Gabriel Valley, has been completed, each article has been wrapped in gay holiday paper and ribbon, and sent on its way.

The children are not orphans, but are under the care of the Welfare Bureau because of various reasons, chief among these often is a mother's illness. Foster homes are the answer to the problem and these people are chosen with a great deal of care, the state law authorizes the counties "to provide the best substitute for their own home for those children who must be given foster care." Payment is made for the basic needs of the children but it is not enough for the extras.

During the year, the Evening Department receives many calls for help . . . a boy needs a suit, a girl is in need of a first communion dress, a graduation dress, another call said that a boy had new glasses, the lenses were correct but the frames were not the same as other boys were wearing and he was ashamed to wear his; the department furnished the new frames. It also provided a trumpet for a boy who was musical and would be given free musical instruction at school. Still another time the call came through for a complete outfit for a boy who was to go to a foster home and had no suitable clothes to wear.

The project began six years ago with a group of 16 members who decided to collect and repair toys and bicycles for needy children, and with each succeeding year the activity has grown. The County Welfare Bureau notifies the department of the number of children in need, this year there were 200.

The Christmas project begins in June when the philanthropy chairman starts shopping for the gifts. She takes advantage of the sales and is constantly watching for good buys. During the months of October and November the welfare office of El Monte furnishes lists containing the number of boys and girls in each age group and the gifts are chosen and marked accordingly. The girls from 11 to 17 are listed as to size and coloring and the department members make a skirt to fit each girl, then a matching sweater is purchased. These skirts and sweaters are lovely colors and each is different, and every year between 30 and 40 sets are given.

The older boys receive socks, jeans or a wallet. Toys are selected, dolls, sewing kits, games and baby toys are chosen with great care.

The members of the department meet at the clubhouse and wrap each gift, the wrappings are all gay and pretty and the packages are beautiful. Now the welfare workers collect the gifts and they are taken to the bureau, where the workers put on the name tags. The department never knows the name of the child or where he lives.

The department is happy to bring comfort to these children, who in many cases are unhappy, and sometimes resentful that they have to be away from their parents.

The funds are raised in various ways. This year, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Earl Towsley, chairman of the department, an Autumn Daze dessert and card party was held in the clubhouse, and there will be a May Daze luncheon and card party later in the season.

The Arcadia Tribune has cooperated in many ways with the department in the project, such as publishing a plea for used bicycles and in publishing news of the benefits. The group hopes to enlarge the project as the need arises.

Mrs. Jack Moore, philanthropy chairman this year has carried on the work started by Mrs. Janet Munro, first philanthropy chairman and originator of the project. Mrs. Earl Towsley has been chairman of the Evening Department for the past two years.

'White Christmas' To Aid Child Health

One of the gayest parties of the holiday season will be the "White Christmas" ball at the Altadena Town and Country Club on Saturday evening. Gaiety Reigns at Festive Yule Ball

Glittering holiday decor matched the effervescent gaiety of guests last evening when Arcadia Woman's Club Evening Division staged its sixth annual White Christmas Ball at Altadena Country Club.

Gala festivities began with a cocktail hour timed for 7 to 8:30 p.m., and was followed by an elaborate buffet dinner which lasted until 9:30 p.m. Remainder of the glamorous evening was spent in dancing to music of Sidney Zaid and his orchestra.

Mrs. C. R. Niederhaus served as general chairman for the semi-formal social event. She was ably assisted by Mmes. George Derry, decorations chairman; R. W. Titgemeyer, ticket sales; and Kelvin Turner, who supervised the cocktail hour.

Proceeds from the successful fete will benefit the Arcadia Child Health Center — a project of the Arcadia Parent-Teacher Association. Its president is Mrs. Robert Dennis who also serves as parliamentarian for the Evening Department.

Santa Greets Guests at Benefit Ball Held by Evening Department

One hundred and eighty beautifully gowned ladies and their escorts were greeted by none other than "Santa Claus himself" upon arriving at the White Christmas Ball given by the Evening Department of Arcadia Woman's club. The event was held at Altadena Town and Country Club last Saturday evening.

Santa presented each lady with a lovely flacon of perfume and each gentleman received a novelty mink and sequin trimmed bottle opener. Beautifully decorated Christmas trees, 30-ft. tall, graced both the Mural room and the ballroom of the club, and each table was decorated with gold and red tinsel centerpieces with many glowing candle-lit hurricane lamps.

Early arrivals were served hors d'ouevres during the cocktail hour with a buffet dinner following. Dancing to the music of Sidney Zaid's orchestra was under a ceiling of silver-sprayed tumbleweeds trimmed with colorful dangling snowflakes.

Mrs. C. R. Niederhaus, general chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Earl C. Towsley, chairman of the Evening Department. Other chairmen were Mmes. George Derry, decorations; Kelvin Turner, cocktail hour; Robert Titgemeyer, tickets and reservations, and Anthony Anger, publicity.

Working on the committees were Mmes. William Kennedy, Jack Moore, Alan Langlois, William Moore, R. Earl Hadady, Robert Dennis, Robert Wagner, William Scheuer, Ken Brayton, Paul Malling, William Frazer, Bert Schaar, Dene Christie and Jack Wagner.

Assistance was also given by Messrs. George Derry, William Moore, R. Earl Hadady, C. R. Niederhaus and William Scheuer. Acknowledgements were given to El Rancho Market, Alpha Beta Foundation, Park and Tilford Toiletries, Reynolds Tobacco Co. and Thomas Sherlock.

Proceeds of the ball will go to the Arcadia Child Health Council for their work in helping Arcadia school children in need of medical care. This year's ball was the sixth such given by the group of 30 philanthropy - minded women. Last year's benefit aided the new Methodist Hospital.

Stages Annual Christmas Fete

Old friends to greet—new friends to meet—was the prevailing theme of the annual Christmas social evening party Saturday night, Dec 14, for the members of the Woman's Club of Arcadia and their escorts. Forty couples enjoyed the potluck dinner served at candlelighted tables, which were decorated with gilded leaves, holly and poinsettias.

Mrs. Charles Johnson, chairman of the monthly social evening parties, introduced Mrs. Lyman G. Vollintine, hostess, and Mrs. Oscar Chagnon, co-hostess for the evening. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Palmer F. Schlegel, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dettra, Mrs. Daniel Slattery, Mrs. John Ross, Mrs. L. K. Campbell, Mrs. Lawrence V. Shepherd, Mrs. Charles Johnson and Lyman G. Vollintine.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dettra acted as "Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus" for the Christmas gift exchange which was followed by a half-hour program given by the Boy Choristers, directed by Dr. John Henry Lyons.

Most outstanding numbers given by this adeptly trained ensemble were "He Shall Feed His Flock" from the Messiah; "Bless this House" and Dr. Lyon's composition, "Away in a Manger." Soloists included David Nobis, "Sweet Little Boy Jesus," Danny Brodek, "Brahm's Lullaby" as well as James Gray and Gilbert Eigenhius.

Bridge and canasta were played following the program, thus completing an enjoyable evening for all.

Arcadia Woman's Club Honors Mayor, Prominent Leaders at Civic Day Event

ARCADIA — Woman's Club of Arcadia, honoring city officials and other prominent leaders at their Wednesday civic day program and luncheon were in turn honored by Mayor Robert F. Dennis of Arcadia.

He presented the clubwomen with a certificate of appreciation for their generous financial gift to the city's parks and recreation department for use in creating a recreational playground.

Honored Guests

Mrs. William Winchester, civics chairman for the club, introduced the mayor as well as Dr. William Staerkel, new Arcadia superintendent of schools. The latter spoke briefly of the importance of a top educational system in a suburban community such as Arcadia. He said it is an important point in attracting hundreds of families to this area.

Proof of this factor, Dr. Staerkel continued, comes to him daily from people investigating the school system before buying property. Furthermore, he added, top rate educational facilities keep property values high. He concluded his address by stressing the importance of voting at the Feb. 11 school bond and tax over-ride election.

Featured Speaker

Mrs. William Adams, club president, presented Mrs. Lyman Vollentine, program chairman, who introduced Rex Miller as afternoon speaker.

Mr. Miller, a Rhodes scholar at Oxford and formerly on the faculty at Harvard, spoke of the country of Turkey where he was for a time with the U. S. Embassy.

He gave a resume of the history of that country, explaining how the Turkish Revolution of the Twenties did away with the old regime.

The speaker, who also has been a foreign correspondent now is a journalism instructor at the University of California at Los Angeles, praised Turkey for her progress and her determination to be a thoroughly democratic country.

The old script used by the few educated citizens of years back, he said, has been cast aside in favor of the Roman alphabet and mass education. Both the fez and the veil have been cast aside. Between 80 and 90 per cent of the people go to the polls to insure this new freedom he said.

The speaker concluded with the advice that foreign aid to such countries as Turkey is vitally important to the United States. America, he said, cannot stand alone today as it did in the past century. Chaotic conditions in the Far East, flare-ups in troubled portions of the world, and conflicting ideas make it imperative to have friends.

Committee Chairmen

Responsible for the success of the day were Mmes. Winchester, E. J. Fuerst, John P. Ross, William Gibbs, Lawrence Shepherd, Russell Lucas, Vollentine, Ralph Hankins, John T. Simpson, Bert Schaar, and Oscar Chagnon.

NUMEROUS CITY OFFICIALS and prominent civic leaders attended the civic day program and luncheon given Wednesday afternoon by the Arcadia Woman's Club. Civic Leaders Honored by Woman's Club of Arcadia at Traditional Civic Day Luncheon and Program Last Week

The Woman's Club of Arcadia entertained many of Arcadia's civic leaders Wednesday at the club's traditional Civic Day luncheon, the day when the club pays tribute to the city leaders. Mrs. William Adams, president, graciously welcomed the guests.

Mayor Robert Dennis and Mrs. Dennis were introduced. The mayor stated that he regarded Civic Day as a welcome highlight of the year and one that he greatly enjoyed. He referred to the report on city functions that is now being distributed throughout the city, and asked that members read it with care. He then presented Mrs. Adams with a framed citation of appreciation for the club's contributions to the Recreation Department.

Mrs. William Winchester, civic chairman, presented the following honored guests: Councilmen Donald S. Camphouse, Elton Phillips, Edward Jacobi and Conrad Reibold; city manager, Neil Anderson; city clerk, Christine Van Maanen; city attorney, James A. Nicklin; city treasurer, Catherine A. Murphy; director of finance, Lawrence W. Larson; director of public works, Mike Carozza; personnel officer, Clifford C. Pollock; acting water superintendent, John A. Girvich; chief of police, William S. Orr; Fire Department chief, James M. Nellis; planning secretary, Leslie M. Talley; city librarian, Grace Clark; recreation director, John F. Panatier; Chamber of Commerce vice-president, Verl Funk; Red Cross executive secretary, Claire Charles; president of Board of Education, Edward L. Butterworth; superintendent of schools, Dr. William M. Staerkel; building inspector, Jerry Rice; Harold F. Roach, Arcadia Tribune publisher; Mrs. Florence Wilson, president of Coordinating Council; Mrs. Elton Phillips, president Women's Division, Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Catherine Mundy, women's editor Arcadia Tribune.

Education

Dr. William M. Staerkel gave a brief but excellent talk on the fine cooperation he had received since coming to Arcadia recently, and again thanked all city personnel and civic leaders, as well as the organizations who had offered him such a warm welcome and ready assistance. The mayor, the City Council, the Board of Education were especially mentioned, and he praised the good city school system. He said that good educational standards always attract good families, thus maintaining property values, a real interest in affairs of the community, and resultant prosperity for merchants. He mentioned the need for increased facilities, in order to avoid extended, or double sessions.

Mrs. Lyman Vollantine, program chairman, presented the speaker of the day, Rex Miller. He was a Rhodes scholar, taught at Harvard University, served as first secretary and public relations officer at the American Embassy in Turkey, and has been a correspondent and newscaster.

With his background of experience in Turkey and his wide knowledge of that country, Mr. Miller gave an excellent talk. He spoke of the Western ideals that prevail there, the interest of the people in learning English, and the great progress that has been made in every way. Although Turkey is on the Russian border, the Turkish people have an intense dislike of Communism and refuse to allow any attempt at spreading it in their country.

Chairman

Mrs. William Winchester, civic chairman, was assisted by Mrs. E. J. Fuerst and Mrs. John P. Ross. Mrs. William Gibbs, hospitality chairman, had as her committee Mmes. Russel Lucas, Ralph Hankins, John T. Simpson, Bert Schaar, Oscar Chagnon, Herbert Glidden, and the Junior Woman's Club president, Mrs. Edward L. Schaar.

Mrs. Adams thanked the chairman, Mrs. C. F. Noack and her committee of Mmes. Rose Lane, Ralph George, Edward Kaurin, for their aid in planning and carrying out the table decorations, and to Mrs. Eric Stadig and Mrs. Edward Verhoef for the special arrangements in the lounge and on the piano. The new press chairman, Mrs. Richard S. Cole, who is filling this position during the illness of Mrs. Karl Stephens, was introduced by Mrs. Adams.

Rare Seal Collection To Be Displayed at Woman's Club Show

Beautiful and rare Chinese seals will be exhibited at the "Antique, Hobby and Collecting" show to be held Feb. 12 and 13 at the Arcadia Woman's Club. The event, the first of its kind to be held in Arcadia, is being sponsored by the ways and means committee with Mrs. J. W. Watson as chairman.

The collection of seals is owned by Mrs. William (Eleanor) Gibbs and it will be displayed at the hobby show in a case being specially built for the occasion by Mr. Gibbs. The seals will be placed on black velvet under display lights. The collection will also be shown at a later date at the Los Angeles County Museum.

Mrs. Gibbs, who has been seriously collecting seals for several years, became interested when a Chinese friend presented her with several bronze seals which she had intended at first to have pierced and made into a charm bracelet.

When she realized the historical significance of the seals Eleanor then became an ardent student of Chinese art, history and even of the language. Her husband, Bill, and their children, Blake and Pamela, are also enthusiastic about the venture.

In the hands of such a people as the Chinese, whose keen sense of symmetry and balance is so obvious, the rude pictograms of their early writing became conventionalized into a calligraphy of graphic beauty. Early in this process of this evolution was developed the form of writing known as the Seal characters, because they were used in inscribing seals. All leading Chinese families had their seals which were used in business and marketing transactions.

Mrs. Gibbs, in addition to seal collecting, is an active worker in club and philanthropic activities in Arcadia. She has served as PTA unit and council president, is a past president of Arcadia Junior Woman's Club and of the Arcadia Assistance League of Arcadia.

The show will be open both days from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and anyone wishing to enter exhibits is asked to call Mrs. Watson at ELgin 5-3058, Mrs. Gibbs, HIllcrest 7-9809, or Mrs. Richard Cole, HIllcrest 6-4996. Mrs. Daniel Slattery, chairman of tickets, may be reached at HIllcrest 7-6243, Mrs. George Blanchard, ELgin 5-2480, or Mrs. Robert Neill, HIllcrest 7-4297.

Mrs. Gibbs' collection contains rare seals of stone, wood, bronze, jade, rose quartz and crystal, and possibly one of the most interesting is a small bronze, which dates back to pre-Han days, a small pivotal seal which signifies heaven and earth on each side. The materials have been identified to establish antiquity. The Han dynasty in China goes back to 206 BC.

Also in the collection is a set of 8 "spinach" jade tablets, dark green in color and written by Emperor Chien Lung of the Ching Dynasty because of his glorious military merits, and also because of his long life, called himself "the Emperor of Long Life" and also "The Old Man of Perfect Completion." He had the latter phrase inscribed on a jade seal. Mrs. Gibbs' tablets are a disquisition of the seals, and her ambition now is to obtain the seal itself. The Emperor Chien Lung represented the Golden Age, as well as the beginning of the decline of the Ching Dynasty.

Translated

Other items included in the lovely collection are the fortune telling seals, Tibetan seal and a general's seal with thong holes made of white jade and quite ancient calligraphy on it. Another one is a piece of crystal with moss growing in it that has been made into a seal.

The seals are now being translated by a San Francisco scholar.

Through this project the Gibbs' have acquired many Chinese friends and have had many interesting experiences.

Director of Pasadena Art Museum Presented at Junior Woman's Club

Art was the order of the evening at the recent meeting of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club held at the Woman's Club house. Mmes. Kenneth Ward and Milton Vogel, Penny Art co-chairmen, planned the program which included a small fry art show, an exhibit of original work by members and friends, and a talk by Thomas Levitt, the new director of the Pasadena Art Museum.

Mr. Levitt, a native of Boston, and a graduate of Harvard, is the son of a painter and the grandson of a sculptor. New to Southern California, Mr. Levitt made the Junior's meeting his first public appearance since arriving here in November.

In his informal talk, he pointed out the purpose and workings of the modern art museum, explaining that they are no longer merely storehouses, but places of public service. In discussing the different forms of art shown at the Pasadena museum, Mr. Levitt illustrated his points with a traditional painting by Childe Hassam,

Milton Vogel, George Ensslin, William Jorgensen, Kenneth Ward, Robert G. Dahlquist, Jack McCarville, William Derry, John Nelson, and Lennard McKenzie.

The very active chairmen rounded out their evening with a Penny Art bulletin board which featured recent art notices and announcements of coming events; and a library of fine art books and pamphlets which are part of their art rental library project.

The business meeting preceeding the program was conducted by Mrs. Edward Schaar, president, who also introduced Mr. Levitt and other guests.

Displayed around the room were thirty six paintings and drawings done by the members' children. Prizes were awarded in each of five age groups by the judges: Mmes. William Adams, junior-senior coordinator, and Robert G. Dahlquist, Verdugo - Metropolitan district Penny Art Chairman. Winners were: Nancy Nelson, 3-4 year olds; Scott Burgess, 5 year olds; Christie Davidson, 6 year olds; Sheila Kelley, 7 year olds; and Roger Ensslin, 8-9 year olds.

Members Work

Also shown were 31 original works by members and friends. Those contributing their own work were Mmes. Walter Garrison with two oil paintings; Charles Coulter, four pastels; and Kenneth Ward, four childrens' watercolors, three oil paintings, and two pastel portraits. Those showing paintings they had purchased or been given were Mmes: Richard Hunter, Lee Darrow, Gordon Campbell,

Woman's Club to Hear Talk on Antique Glass

Miss Elizabeth Curtis of Pasadena will be guest speaker Wednesday at the regular luncheon meeting of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, under the sponsorship of the Arts and Crafts Department. Mrs. Charles Johnson, chairman of the department, has invited Mrs. R. J. Mansfield of South Pasadena, district chairman, to attend the event.

Mrs. William Adams, president, will be in charge of the day and will welcome friends and guests. A buffet-style luncheon will be served at 11:30 a.m. and Mrs. C. F. Noack and her committee will decorate the tables.

Miss Curtis has chosen as her topic "Antique Glass and Porcelain." The Curtis family started the Curtis Galleries in Pasadena and Miss Curtis is at present affiliated with the firm. She has been associated with various arts, and is a well informed and authoritive speaker.

In view of the coming "Antiques, Hobby and Collecting" show to be staged by the Woman's Club next month, the talk of Miss Curtis should be of especial interest to all members. She will speak at 1 p.m.

Card playing will follow the meeting for all who desire to play. Door prizes will be given. Reservations are necessary by 6 tonight. Call Mrs. D. Mulcahy, HIllcrest 7-1625 or Mrs. E. Hodson, ATlantic 6-7427.

Beautiful Glass to Be Viewed at Show of Local Woman's Club

Anita Stern of Arcadia, who deals in beautiful old glass and art, will exhibit colored and art glass in the "Antique, Hobby and Collecting" show of the Woman's Club of Arcadia to be given Feb. 12 and 13 in the clubhouse at 324 South First Ave.

Born in England, she came to Philadelphia as a small girl. She grew to love old and colored glass at an early age because she grew up in a family surrounded by unusual collections.

Real interest as a collector of cut glass began when she received a large carton of unusual pieces as a wedding present. She now has her shop of lovely articles in Arcadia on Foothill Blvd.

Other dealers who will exhibit at the show will include Peggy's Antiques, San Gabriel, a display of old jewelry; Ann Payne, San Gabriel, will display old glass, cranberry glass and Wedgewood, and Tina's, Pasadena, will show old china.

The show is attracting wide interest both from persons with collections and from those who are interested in old and rare articles. It is not only the first of its kind to be given by the Woman's Club, but also the first to be given in this area. The public is invited to visit the show which will be from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. on both days.

The ways and means committee headed by Mrs. J. W. Watson as chairman is sponsoring the benefit. Donation is $1.25 and all proceeds will go to the club's philanthropic program.

For tickets call Mrs. Daniel Slattery, ticket chairman, HIllcrest 7-6243, Mrs. George Blanchard, ELgin 5-2480, Mrs. Robert Neill, HIllcrest 7-4297, or Mrs. Richard Cole, HIllcrest 6-4996.

'Antique Glass, Porcelain' to Be Woman's Club Subject

ARCADIA — Elizabeth Curtins of Pasadena will be the guest speaker at the Arcadia Woman's Club luncheon, on Wednesday, at the clubhouse, at 11:30 a.m.

Miss Curtis will speak on "Antique Glass and Porcelain," under the sponsorship of the Arts and Crafts Department.

Mrs. R. J. Mansfield, district chairman, has also been invited to attend, by the local chairman, Mrs. Charles Johnson.

Miss Curtis, whose family founded the Curtis Galleries in Pasadena, is presently affiliated with the firm.

She has been associated with various arts and is well informed in her subject, Mrs. Johnson pointed out.

Miss Curtis will speak at 1 p.m., and card playing will follow the meeting.

Decorations will be arranged by a committee headed by Mrs. C. F. Noack. Reservations may be made with Mrs. D. Mulcahy or Mrs. E. Hodson, according to Mrs. William Adams, president.

HOBBY SHOW

Dates Set for Arcadia Event

ARCADIA—Several coverlets, some of them almost 200 years old, will be on exhibit at the antique collections and hobby show being held Feb. 12 and 13 by the Arcadia Woman's Club.

The coverlets, a part of the A. T. Cole collection, are being entered by club member Mrs. Richard Cole and her husband of Arcadia. The two also will exhibit a tin lantern — forerunner of the hurricane lamp of today. These lights primarily were used as an outdoor light, with this particular one coming from the Iowa homestead of Richard Cole's grandfather, William Cole.

Relate History

The coverlets of the collection hold a story brimful of American history which dates back to the earliest pioneers who may have traveled here from Europe, but who never failed to bring along one of their most treasured possessions —wheels for the spinning of wool or flax.

One of the coverlets, dated about 1790, obviously is the work of a housewife. The others were the work of professional weavers who travelled about the country.

Varied Patterns

One of the more interesting coverlets in the Cole collection, many of them have a light side for summer and a dark for winter, has a Masonic pattern and dates back to the years between 1812 and 1820. An exquisite bird of paradise design is about the same age. Still another has a silver dollar design, each of the dollars bearing 26 stars dating it to the year 1837.

In contrast to this exhibit of heirloom coverlets there will be the work of modern weavers, several of whom will be seen at work the day of the show.

The event, according to Mrs. J. W. Watson, general chairman, will have much of interest for both men and women. It will be staged on both days from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse.

FIREARMS—John H. Seay displays part of his collection of muzzle loading guns to be displayed at the "Antique, Hobby and Collections Show" of Arcadia Woman's Club, Feb. 12 and 13.

Ancient Guns to Feature Show

ARCADIA — Among the exhibits to be shown at the Arcadia Woman's Club "Antique, Hobby and Collections Show," is part of the collection of muzzle loaders owned by John H. Seay, of Pasadena.

Every item in Seay's collection is in firing condition. He is founder and chairman of the board of the Eaton Canyon Muzzle Loaders Association, shooting regularly at the canyon range.

A late 17th Century German Jager is shown above, third from the right. Made in Suhl, by Johannes Scheuring, and probably brought to America by an early settler, it was the forerunner of the Kentucky long rifle, one of which is shown at the extreme right.

The latter, with 27 silver inlays, was built by D. Yocum, in Pennsylvania. The Kentucky long rifles were made in Pennsylvania, but by distinguishing themselves Kentucky, gained the name, according to Seay.

sign to protect the rifle against witchcraft.

All four of the guns shown contain a patch box in the stock, an addition to the better rifles.

A pair of "deadly accurate" dueling pistols appears in the lower left of the picture. These were made by Mahillon, of Brussels, and are accompanied by the original molds and loading rods.

Favorite gamblers' weapon, in fact and in fiction, is a pair of Derringers, upper left. This model with the single barrel, preceded the familiar double barrel model. Molds and loading tools, and various powder horns dating from 1781 are also shown.

Seay will exhibit these and other items, and will also be present both evenings of the show to answer questions regarding his collection.

The show will be given Feb. 12 and 13, in the clubhouse, at 324 S. First Ave. The public is invited, with the exhibit open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Second from the right is a match target rifle of the late flintlock era, marked with the well-known name of Cherrington. While fourth from the right is a squirrel rifle, constructed by L. Biddle, about 1835. Sixteen silver inlays in a Pennsylvania Dutch motif adorn the stock, one of the inlays a hex

White Christmas Ball Proceeds

Evening Department of Arcadia Woman's Club Presents Large Check to Further Work of Arcadia Health Council

Mrs. Earl Towsley, chairman of the Evening Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, presented a check for $728 to the Arcadia Child Health Clinic last week at the regular meeting. The presentation was made to Mrs. Robert Dennis, president of the council. The check represented the proceeds of the annual White Christmas ball held during the holiday season by the Evening Department.

"These funds, together with those received from the Community Chest and other Arcadia organizations will be used for the purpose of promoting both mental and physical health among needy children in Arcadia Unified School District," Mrs. Dennis stated.

The meeting was attended by many PTA officials, school principals and nurses, as well as business and professional people who are interested in child welfare.

A report on the success of the electroencephalogram used by medical science today in tracing brain wave patterns with particular emphasis on behavior problems and seizures, was given by Dr. Leon Oettinger. Dr. Oettinger is on the staff of several Southern California hospitals and is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School. He has published upwards of 15 papers on the various phases of pediatrics and electroencephalograms. He is also immediate past president of Past Presidents Western Institute on Epilepsy.

A special film on the success of this type of treatment, which was secured from the library of the Los Angeles Medical Association, was also shown.

The council is in its 20th year of service in Arcadia and it has been responsible for constructive medical and dental assistance to many children who are found needy and worthy after careful screening and investigation. It is sponsored by the Community Chest and is a project of the Arcadia PTA. The Arcadia service clubs, Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary, Junior Woman's Club and now the Evening Department, have also supported the council.

Board

The Health Council Board is composed of the superintendent of the Arcadia School District, the principal of each school, a representative from each of the PTA groups, the supervisor of child welfare and attendance, school nurses of the Arcadia School District, and the president of the Arcadia PTA Council.

The "clinic" operates under its own by-laws, and the purposes remain the same as when organized in 1937 to promote mental and physical good health among the children of Arcadia schools.

To accomplish its purpose, the Health Council furnished financial aid to underprivileged children for the care of their teeth, eyes and tonsils, and where conditions warrant, other medical services are arranged for. A professional case worker is retained by the Health Council. It is her duty to personally investigate every case and qualify the merits of each request for assistance, reporting her findings back to the Health Council Board.

Assisting Mrs. Dennis on the board are the following: Ernest Herrington, vice-president; Mrs. Allan Jaynes, secretary; Mrs. Melvin Anderson, treasurer, and Mrs. Carle Bennett, case worker.

'Colonial Folk Arts' to Be Exhibited at Woman's Club Antique and Hobby Show

"Colonial Folk Arts" will be one of the fascinating displays at the "Antique, Hobby and Collecting" show to be staged by the ways and means committee of the Woman's Club of Arcadia on Feb. 12 and 13 in the clubhouse at 324 South First Ave. Mrs. Joe Watson is chairman of the show.

The display will be entered by Mrs. G. W. (Winnie) McClellan of 811 Hugo Reid Dr., and will include prize-winning quilts, beautiful hooked rugs and unusual pieces of brown Bennington, the ware that was used in the early pioneer days for cooking and eating utensils.

Mrs. McClellan will show her finished and also her unfinished quilts, for as she says, "I will have to live to be 200 to finish all that I would like to make." She will be putting the finishing binding on her "Washington Cherry," which is made with more than 2000 red cherries and a running vine border of old-fashioned flowers and leaves of red and green. Mrs. McClellan's quilts "May Cherries" and "Early Coxcombe" won blue ribbons at the Los Angeles County Fair.

Mrs. McClellan, who is also an ardent skiier, swimmer and gardener, believes that quilt making is one of the most fascinating forms of needlecraft and she is always planning her next quilt before finishing the one on hand. She uses only authentic antique designs. She finds it hard, she said, to create designs prettier than our grandmothers did, they put so many stories in their quilts. She doesn't believe that she would like today's stories on her bed—Sputniks and space travel. "Our grandmothers' designs centered around their lives, and they tell the stories of their religion, occupation, politics, nature and their meager social activities."

The "Star" quilt in its numerous variations easily leads all the rest. Next, the beautiful "Rose," the "Rose of Sharon" being the favorite. Fortunate was the bride whose dower-chest contained a "Rose of Sharon" quilt and it was frequently saved for guests of honor and special occasions. From their flower gardens came all the wide range of flower names such as "Garden Maze," "Autumn Maze," "Spider Web," "Rolling Stone" and "Flying Bat." There were also many political names such as "Clay's Choice," "Whig Rose," "Democrat Rose," "Harrison's Rose," and "Lincoln's Log Cabin."

Quilt

The quilt as we know it in America was in the beginning a strictly utilitarian article, born of the necessity of providing warm covers for the beds. What was yesterday's necessity is today's luxury.

The clubhouse will be open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. on both days. The public is invited. Tickets are $1.25 and all proceeds will be used for the club's philanthropic work. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Daniel Slattery, ticket chairman, Mrs. George Blanchard, ELgin 5-2480, Mrs. Robert Neill, HIllcrest 7-4297, or Mrs. Richard Cole, HIl

Antique Exhibit Slated

ARCADIA — The antique, hobby and collections show to be staged Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 12 and 13, by the Woman's Club of Arcadia, is attracting widespread attention throughout San Gabriel Valley. Open to the public from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. both days, it will be at the Woman's Clubhouse at 324 S. First Ave., Arcadia. Mrs. J. W. Watson is general chairman.

The scores of exhibitors will include Mrs. Oscar M. Chagnon of Arcadia, a club member with a priceless collection of Victorian period silver.

Mrs. Chagnon, whose hobby is collecting rare antiques, also will display some of her heirloom glass. Another eye-catcher will be her exquisite old Russian samovar.

Mrs. H. W. Scarborough, another Arcadia club member, will exhibit some of the priceless silver, linens, china and jewelry which has been passed down from generation to generation in her family. Much of it came from the New York home which was built by her ancestors on their Holland Dutch Co. land grant. A part of its furnishings now are in the New York Americana Museum.

Silver Collection

Thousands at the show will be especially interested in the fiddleback spoons of coin silver she inherited, as well as her mulberry glass. Her blue sugarbowl marked with an American eagle is coveted by many collectors.

Proving of equal interest will be her antique jewelry and the Washington coverlet and hand loomed sheets woven by her ancestors from the flax they grew.

Another interesting exhibit will be entered by Mrs. O. E. Cummins, mother of Mrs. William Adams, club president. Mrs. Cummins will show her pastels in the art gallery which is to be set up. The pictures were done after much research into costuming by the artist. Frames for the pictures also have been made by the artist.

Others entering exhibits in the art field include Mmes. Fritz Baumeister, wood carvings; Grace Day, wood carvings; James Allen, textile painting; Irene Salter, copper tooling.

Mrs. L. V. Shepherd, hostess chairman for the club, will welcome guests. Mrs. Edward Schaar, president of the Juniors, is her co-hostess chairman.

'GOOD IDEA' GAINING MOMENTUM

By MARJORIE LEIGH

What does it take to turn a good idea into a successful project?

Members of Arcadia Woman's Club—300 strong—can tell you, pausing in their jam-packed days, that it takes a lot of cooperation and just plain, old-fashioned hard work.

Mrs. William Adams, club president, and Mrs. J. W. Watson, ways and means chairman, first discussed the idea of staging an antique, hobby and collection show as a fund-raising event to bolster the club's philanthropy funds.

Response to the tentative "feelers" they put out was immediate and enthusiastic. In fact, proud collectors throughout San Gabriel Valley have almost deluged the club women with offers of everything from antique firearms to modern silver.

And now, after committee members have viewed and passed on the prospective exhibits, more than 30 separate displays and demonstrations have been set up for Feb. 12

THERE'LL BE nothing static about the displays, either, for John Seay, who owns a fine collection of muzzle loaders and flintlocks will give informal talks on his firearms display. Mrs. Randolph Scott will operate a loom for the Hand Weaving Guild, a silversmith will demonstrate her work and many other exhibitors will be present to share their knowledge and enthusiasm for their "hobby horses." Show hours are from 11 a.m. until 9 p.m., both days, and advance ticket reservations may be made with ticket chairman Mrs. Dan Slattery, at Hi. 7-6243. Tickets also will be available at the door.

Especial care is being taken of the valuable collections entrusted for exhibition. Mrs. Andrew Heilman heads a committee which will register all entries at the door as they are received.

Handweaving to Be Demonstrated At Hobby Show

Arcadia members of the Southern California Handweavers Guild will present an interesting display of their craft at the "Antique Hobby and Collecting" show of the Arcadia Woman's Club on Feb. 12 and 13. Mrs. William Adams, president of the club, announces that the show will be open to the public both days from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the clubhouse, 324 South First Ave.

Mrs. J. W. Watson, general chairman of the two-day occasion, states that the Southern California Handweavers Guild will have a loom in operation to demonstrate wearing apparel, bags, rugs, lampshades, table linens, towels and upholstery fabrics.

Among those who will exhibit in this display will be Mrs. Winifred R. Scott, president of the Guild, Mrs. Olive Van Fleet, Mrs. Ralph D. Sparks, Mrs. Grace Mazzeo, Mrs. W. Rodney Pearson, Mrs. J. F. Hill, Mrs. George Wade Jr., Mrs. Dorothea Huke and Mrs. Anna Mark.

Adding to the interest of the show will be the demonstration by Mrs. Jane Allen of textile painting, and a demonstration of copper enamelling by Mrs. Irene Salter.

Evening Department of Woman's Club Hears Talk of American Woman

Mrs. Anne Reher, "good will ambassador" for the General Petroleum Corp., with her amusing talks "Sugar and Spice" and "The American Woman," was the highlight of the regular meeting of the Evening Department of the Women's Club of Arcadia. The saga begins with the exploits of Ann Royal in the early days of America and continues through the newest "sack look" fashion craze of today. The contradictions that make up "The American Woman" were the basis of the talk and they seemed all too true. Sven Reherh accompanied his wife.

Mrs. V. John Barry welcomed members and guests to her home. She was assisted by the following hostesses: Mrs. Lester B. Lee, Mrs. William Petersilge and Mrs. Jack M. Wagner. Mrs. Earl C. Towsley, chairman of the department, welcomed the following guests: Mrs. M. A. Steckle, Mrs. E. Bedard, Mrs. Catherine Mundy and Mrs. Edward Schaar, president of the Junior Woman's Club, who presented Mrs. Daniel Slattery, senior coordinator of the Juniors and formerly president of the Woman's Club, Ann Kidd, past president of the Juniors, and Dee Dalquist, Barbara McCardell, Anita Fesler, Beverly Kelly and Marie Farnam. Also introduced were two new members of the department, Mrs. William Motley and Mrs. Frank Stanovich.

Present Check

Mrs. Jack Moore, philanthropy chairman, read a letter from the County Welfare Bureau thanking the department for the Christmas gifts for the county's foster children. Mrs. Robert Dennis, as president of the Arcadia Health Council, acknowledged the check for the proceeds of the White Christmas Ball. Announcement of the bridge tournament beginning this month was made by Mrs. R. E. Hadady.

The following members also attended the meeting: Mrs. Kelvin Turner, Mrs. Keith Hagberg, Mrs. Bert Schaar, Mrs. Alan Langlois, Mrs. D. Kennedy, Mrs. George Derry, Mrs. Doyle Lindley, Mrs. Dene Christie, Mrs. Clifton Niederhaus and Mrs. James Frazer.

When some men air their knowledge they seem to think they are raising a miniature cyclone.

Mrs. Joseph Parnham to Enter Display in Woman's Club Show

Mrs. Joseph Parnham, active in social and cultural activities, also finds time for hobbies, and she has a most interesting one, that of glass etching. She will enter her fine collection, and also demonstrate her work, at the Antique, Hobby and Collections show of the Woman's Club of Arcadia to be held Feb. 12 and 13 in the clubhouse, 324 South First Ave.

Mrs. Parnham first became interested in her hobby about 15 years ago because of her interest in fine glass and an urge for creative expression. She has taught many classes and has used the money she has made from them to carry on her numerous philanthropic projects. Two years ago during the chairmanship of Mrs. Albert Weickert, she began to teach it to the art and craft department of the Arcadia Woman's Club.

Glass decorating for centuries was a highly technical art which resisted mechanization. Long apprenticeships and antiquated methods made the profession difficult to invade, and as a consequence it was seldom adopted as a hobby. In 1870, an English inventor noted the abrasive effect of sand upon glass windows in homes along the stormy coast, and this inspired the sandblasting method of applying decoration to glass.

Still a highly technical process, it, nevertheless, has become also a subject for hobbyists such as Mrs. Parnham, who says that the only requisites are natural qualities of a hobbyist: Fairly steady hand, a bit of patience and the desire to create. Her exquisite work is the result of years of patient practice on almost every type of glass object.

Glass Decoration

Expose a piece of glass to acid or a fine blast of sand and it will become frosted. The same principle underlies glass decoration. By use of an adhesive masking tape you can limit the frosting to a given area, thus evolving a permanent design. Or, to go a bit farther, expose the area to the erosive effects of sand for a longer time and the picture will be cut deep into the glass. This is the process known as etching.

The sandblast process supersedes the use of acids because it is easier, safer, and more impressive. Designs eaten out by sand have greater depth and smoothness. Variations of density can create especially attractive effects. And the best part of it is, you probably have most of the necessary tools at home.

Activities

Before moving to Arcadia several years ago, the Parnhams resided in Glendale where she was active in cultural and youth activities. She was also associated with the X-ray clinic in Los Angeles which is conducted by the Board of Education and the Parent-Teacher Assn. During the war Mrs. Parnham was head of the tubercular survey for the entire Los Angeles School District.

In Arcadia her activities include the Arcadia Woman's Club and Arcadia Presbyterian Church. She is district chairman of international hostesses for California Federated Women's Clubs, and is on the Board of Directors of El Calvario Community Center.

Woman's Club Holds Mid-Month Buffet Luncheon

The Arcadia Woman's Club met on Jan. 22 in the clubhouse for the regular mid-monthly buffet luncheon, program and card party. The floral arrangements were made in pink and white, using camellias, narcissus, flowering peach and pink magnolias, by Mrs. C. F. Noack, chairman of decorations.

President Mrs. William Adams presented Mrs. Charles L. Johnson, chairman of Arts and Crafts Department, who sponsored the program for the day. Mrs. Johnson introduced the members of her board, Mrs. D. J. Slattery, Mrs. L. K. Campbell, Mrs. J. K. Law, Mrs. E. R. Godfrey, Mrs. L. B. Hatch, Mrs. F. E. Gates, Mrs. R. H. Lane and Mrs. A. L. Weickert.

Mrs. Johnson gave a brief report of the varied activities of the department during the current year, and outlined future plans of interest.

The luncheon committee was assisted by two board members, Mrs. E. J. Verhoef and Mrs. Robert Wingo. Also serving were Mmes. F. H. Smith, G. C. Ford, P. C. Perry, Homer Brown, Freeman Gates, K. B. Leslie, W. D. Gibbs, L. K. Canfield, Leslie Van Doren, Russell Lucas, H. W. Glidden and H. K. Leitz.

Mrs. Lyman Vollentine, Woman's Club program chairman, presented Miss Curtis of the Curtis Galleries, Pasadena, who gave an informal talk on how to be a critical collector, stressing the importance of a pattern in collections, how to evaluate one's own interests or heirlooms in terms of pleasure and availability in forming a collection of any type.

Mrs. Adams and the executive board announced the nomination of Mrs. Alby Foy for the office of second vice-president, Verdugo district, of the CWFC. Mrs. Foy, who is presently mental health chairman of the district, received much commendation for her outstanding work last year, and will be among those honored at the district meeting this month.

BUTTONS AND MORE BUTTONS—Mrs. Frank B. Havens displays her collection of heirloom buttons which she will exhibit at the Antique, Hobby and Collection Show of Arcadia Woman's Club, Feb. 12 and 13.

Unique Button Collection to Be Shown at Woman's Club Event

ARCADIA—Among the exhibits to be displayed in the Antique, Hobby and Collections Show, sponsored by the Arcadia Woman's Club, are heirlooms from the family of Mrs. Frank B. Havens, member of the club. The show will be held Feb. 12 and 13 in the clubhouse, at 324 S. First Ave.

A collection of buttons, labeled and saved by an aunt, include those worn by relatives in the Civil War, both Army and Navy. Also Opera Buttons, popular at the turn of the century, and picturing a scene from each opera as it reached the peak of popularity. Calico and silver buttons are included, rescued from the attic of the family home in Connecticut.

A pewter tankard and an old fruit dish are much prized items. Mrs. Havens is not adding to her colection, she says, as her interest is mainly in that the articles have family associations.

Mrs. J. W. Watson is chairman of the show. Entries are still coming in, with the exhibit promising to include something to interest every individual. Glass, guns, figurines, weaving, dolls, furniture, rug making, china and many other items will be shown, with several of the exhibitors to be on hand for demonstrating their arts or answering questions regarding their collections.

Proceeds from the ticket sales will be used in the various philanthropic projects of the club.

Film on Present Day Austria To Be Woman's Club Program

ARCADIA—A film of present day Austria will be presented by Victor Sickinger, at the luncheon meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club in the clubhouse, on Wednesday.

The film is on-the-spot recording, with musical sequence, of the Tyrolean countryside, historic Vienna, and industrial and economic phases, according to Mrs. Lyman Vollintine, program chairman. The film reportedly is the only color motion picture of Hungarian refugees crossing the border and being processed in camps, Mrs. Vollintine said.

Sickinger was formerly newspress photographer for the Chicago Herald-Examiner, also the Chicago Tribune, and the Associated Press.

The program is sponsored by the International Affairs Department of the Woman's Club, according to Mrs. William Adams, president.

For luncheon reservations call Mrs. D. Mulcahy, or Mrs. E. Hodson.

Entertainment, Fashion Show to Be Added Club Attractions

ARCADIA—In addition to the many displays to be shown at the Antique, Hobby and Collections Show of the Arcadia Woman's Club on Feb. 12 and 13, will be musical entertainment and a fashion show, according to Mrs. William Adams, president of the organization.

Organ selections fill be presented through the courtesy of the Arcadia Music Mart, and a clever chalk talk with piano accompaniment will be given, Mrs. Adams said.

The public is cordially invited.

Members of the Junior Woman's Club, and daughters of the sponsoring club, will model a variety of costumes, including foreign and American contemporary.

Old dolls, foreign dolls, doll furniture of metal and wood, are among latest entries, Mrs. Richard Cole announced.

One table will be set with a unique set of lettuce leaf American Majolica, another with flowing blue antique china, among other exhibits.

Ticket chairman is Mrs. Daniel Slattery, 3035 Hodges Ave., El Monte. Proceeds will be used for the philanthropic work of the club.

Talk on Australia

The International Affairs Department of Arcadia Woman's Club met last week at the home of Mrs. Oscar Chagnon, 1415 Carmelita Pl. for a coffee hour. Robert L. Smith, a representative of the Zantas Empire Air-Ways Ltd., gave an informative talk on Australia and showed two films, "Australia Today," and one on the Aborigines.

Austrian Films to Be Shown at Club Meet Wednesday

At the regular meeting of Arcadia Woman's Club Wednesday, Mrs. Lyman Vollentine, program chairman, will present Victor Sickinger who will show his comprehensive film of present day Austria. The films include scenic beauties, starting with the peaceful Tyrolean countryside and ending at the historic old city of Vienna; also important industrial and economic phases.

These are the only color motion pictures taken of the many Hungarian refugees crossing the border, and some of the processing of the refugees in the camps set up for their safety. The film is an on-the-spot recording, with musical sequences.

Mr. Sickinger was formerly news-press photographer for the Chicago Herald-Examiner, also the Chicago Tribune, and the A. P. news service. The program is sponsored by the International Affairs Dept.

Luncheon reservations are necessary, and can be made with D. Mulcahy, HIllcrest 7-1623, or Mrs. E. Hodson at ATlantic 6-7427 before 6 p.m. today.

HEIRLOOMS — Mrs. Baxter McBane, right, is shown here with an antique plate which will be among the treasures that she will exhibit Feb. 12 and 13 in the Antique, Hobby and Collections show at the Arcadia Woman's Club. Mrs. Baxter McBane to Show Family Heirlooms at Woman's Club Show

Mrs. Baxter McBane, one of Arcadia's beloved citizens, will enter some of her family treasures in the "Antique, Hobby and Collections" show to be given by the Woman's Club of Arcadia on Feb. 12 and 13 in the clubhouse.

One unique article will be her "Friendship" quilt, which was given to her when she and her family left Fortville, Ind. to make their home in California. There were 800 families in the community and each family is represented on the quilt.

Another quilt she will show is one that she made for her son, Dr. J. K. McBane upon his graduation from Eariham Quaker College. In the center of the quilt she depicted the college buildings and on the edge, all around the quilt, she placed characters that he loved, for instance, she in her wedding gown, and in another place, the girl he was to marry.

Mrs. McBane will also show vaseline and amber pressed glass, some of the plates dating back as far as 1830. And another treasure will be an old love letter which was written by her father to her mother in 1830, before they were married.

The poem is written in the formal lovely style of that period. It opens with the words: "What Could Fortune Offer Me That I should prize above Spending A happy life with thee At a pleasant home I love."

The show will be open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. both days. The public is invited. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Daniel Slattery, ticket chairman at HIllcrest 7-6243.

Club Session Set

ARCADIA — Robert L. Smith, representative of the Quantas Empire Air Lines, was speaker at last week's meeting of the International Affairs Department of the Arcadia Woman's Club.

Smith also showed two films. The meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Oscar Chagnon at 1415 Carmelita Pl., Arcadia, began with a coffee hour.

Films on Austria Planned for Club

ARCADIA — Victor Sickinger will show films of present day Austria to members of the Arcadia Woman's Club Wednesday afternoon.

Sickinger, who will be presented by Mrs. Lyman Vollentine, program chairman, is a former news - press photographer. He formerly worked for the Chicago Tribune and the Associated Press.

His films will include scenic spots of Austria, including the Tyrolean countryside and the historic city of Vienna. He also will show pictures of important industrial and economic areas there. Highlighting the series of pictures will be the color films taken of the many Hungarian refugees who crossed the border.

CHORAL GROUP—The music department of the Arcadia Woman's Club has an outstanding choral group which is scheduled to give a program at the Arcadia club on Reciprocity Day, and also to sing at the Verdugo District convention in March. At that time they will be part of a 100-voice choir. Members of the chorus shown here are, reading left to right from the bottom row: Mmes. Thatcher Jordan, director; Alfred LaRay, Lincoln Schick, E. J. Fentress, Charles Stewart, Archy Slover, M. M. Trew, J. Childrey, John Scull, LeRoy Anderson, Clark Bridgeman, Irwin Logan, A. P. Stuhrman, A. Hoegee, John Doyle, Bruce McAbery and Alby Foy. —Arcadia Tribune photo.

Music Department Chorus Rehearses For Appearance at Verdugo Meet

Music department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Archie Slover, met at the home of Mrs. Ted Danciart on Jan. 26. The chorus, directed by Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, rehearsed choral numbers to be sung next month on Federation and Reciprocity Day at the Arcadia club, when the music department will present the program of the day.

Work was also begun on the numbers to be sung at the Verdugo District convention in April. At that time, the Arcadia chorus will join with choral groups from other clubs in the Verdugo district forming a 100-voice choir. This will have been the realization of a long cherished dream of Mrs. Lee O. Tenney, district music chairman.

Mrs. Lincoln Schick, a member of the music department, presented a most interesting record review of the "Perambulator Suite" by John Allen Carpenter. In this work the composer has undertaken to depict musically the impressions that a baby would get while being wheeled through the park for an afternoon airing; his nurse, the policeman, hurdy gurdy, the dogs, the lake, and even himself demanding attention.

Mrs. Schick explained and demonstrated at the piano these various themes which enabled the listeners to visualize what was taking place in the music as the record was played. She calls her program "A Listening Lesson," and it proved to be not only educational but most interesting.

Those enjoying the program, and the delicious refreshments served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ariel Hoegee and Mrs. John McDowell, were Mmes. William Adams, club president; Archie Wilson, junior past president; Eric Stadig, Samuel Nock, Irwin Logan, Bruce McAbery, Alby Foy, Charles Ganther, G. A. Pearce, M. M. Trew, Clark Bridgeman, Harvey Moss, D. Griner, Robert Ferrante, Harvey Snyder, John Doyle, J. Childrey, Archie Slover, Ahlert Stuhrman, Thatcher Jordan, Charles Stewart, E. J. Frentress, John Scull, Alfred La Ray, Lincoln Schick, J. Van Day and the hostess, Mrs. Ted Danciart.

Club Section Plans Husband's Party

International Affairs department of the Arcadia Woman's Club will hold a Husbands' Party on Saturday night at the clubhouse. There will be a planned potluck dinner at 6:30. Olive and Eric Stadig will show colored slides of their European trip.

All club members are invited to attend. For reservations call Mrs. Stadig, HIllcrest 7-7553, or Mrs. Daniel Slattery, HIllcrest 7-6243.

CLUB SOCIAL NIGHT

Mrs. Joseph Parnham will be hostess for the potluck supper to be held Saturday night at the Woman's Club of Arcadia, and she invites all members to join the group for a pleasant evening of bridge and canasta. Those attending are asked to bring salad, dessert or hot dish to serve eight. Supper will be served promptly at 7 o'clock.

Literature Department Hears Book Review

Literature department of the Arcadia Woman's Club enjoyed a special program for the January meeting. The morning opened at the coffee hour with Mrs. William Moberg as chairman. Assisting her were Mrs. Chester Anderson, Mrs. John T. Simpson, Mrs. George Blanchard and Mrs. May Snyder.

A beautiful Bible thought was given by Mrs. Bruce McAbery, after which she reviewed the outstanding stories by prominent writers for the Ladies' Home Journal. These have been compiled into an interesting book.

ART DEPARTMENT TO MEET IN SOLARIUM

Arts and Crafts department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will meet Feb. 11 at 10 a.m. in the solarium of the clubhouse. Bring sandwich; coffee and tea will be served.

The group will continue to make hats under the leadership of Helen Taylor, also bracelets, felt tissue containers and jewel plastic boxes. Bring material for the articles that you wish to make.

TREASURES from the Orient will be exhibited at the 'Antique, Hobby and Collections' Show of the Arcadia Woman's Club by Mrs. Charles Stewart and Mrs. N. E. Stadig, who have been collecting for many years. Shown above are Mrs. Stadig, wearing a Mexican jacket, Mrs. Andrew Heilman in a Mexican dance costume, and Mrs. Stewart wearing a Chinese Mandarin costume, reading left to right. The public is invited to attend the two-day show on Feb. 12 and 13 in the clubhouse. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

Beautiful Oriental Articles to Be Displayed at Club Hobby Show

16—Arcadia Tribune
Thursday, Feb. 6, 1958

Beautiful costumes and articles from the Oriental countries will be among the treasures to be exhibited at the "Antique, Hobby and Collections" show of the Woman's Club of Arcadia on Feb. 12 and 13 in the clubhouse at 324 South First Ave. The show will be open both days from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and the public has been invited to attend by Mrs. J. W. Watson, chairman, and the club president, Mrs. William Adams.

Mrs. Charles Stewart, who has lived in Arcadia for 35 years and has been a member of the club nearly that long, will show beautiful costumes and textiles that she collected while on many trips to the Orient with her late husband. At first she had no idea of collecting, she "just bought the articles because they were beautiful." On a five months trip Mrs. Stewart acquired so many lovely articles that she purchased a camphorwood chest as a convenience in which to bring them home. It is now one of her loveliest treasures.

She has native costumes from the South Sea Islands, China, Mexican costumes from Mexico and Guatemala and textiles from the Dutch East Indies. In the collection are two rare collector's items, embroidered Chinese costumes dating back to an early Chinese period which she obtained in Shanghai.

The Stewarts obtained their treasures wherever they traveled, Alaska, New Zealand and the countries around the Pacific. Mrs. Stewart's latest trip was to the deep south and the Bahama Islands.

Another display of beautiful items will be exhibited by Mrs. N. E. Stadig. She started collecting 35 years ago when her husband, Col. N. E. Stadig (retired) was stationed in the Philippines. While he was there, the couple traveled extensively throughout the Pacific. Last summer they vacationed in Europe.

The display will include teakwood tables obtained in Hong Kong, old ivory figurines, temple gods, lovely porcelain Chinese wedding lamps, which are traditional at Chinese weddings, and Chinese rugs. She will exhibit a 500-year-old Spanish stirrup which was used by the Spanish conquerors in the New World. She obtained the stirrup in Bogata, Colombia, while her husband was stationed in Panama.

Many other interesting and lovely collections will be shown during the two-day show. Tickets for the outstanding event may be obtained at the door or by calling Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery, ticket chairman, at HIllcrest 7-6243.

Mrs. Andrew Heilman is chairman of registration and she is being assisted by Mmes. E. J. Fuerst, Thurman Keim, Alby Foy, Russell Lucas, R. W. Straub and J. T. Simpson.

Home, Garden Section To Meet Wednesday

Program to be presented at Wednesday's meeting of Arcadia Woman's Club Garden and Home Dept. will be on the study of stones. Guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar who have been lapidarists for many years.

Also featured will be a piano selection by Mrs. Archie Slover.

The meeting will begin at 11:30 a.m., at the home of Mrs. E. J. Verhoef, 380 W. Camino Real, with Mrs. John Richardson as program chairman. Members are to bring a sandwich, and beverages will be served by the hostess.

Public Invited to Antique Show at Local Woman's Club

Final plans are being made for the "Antique, Hobby and Collectors" show to be given by the Woman's Club of Arcadia on Wednesday and Thursday at the clubhouse, 324 South First Ave. The show will be open both days from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend the event by Mrs. J. W. Watson, chairman. Tickets are $1.25 each and may be obtained at the door.

Among the beautiful and unusual collection to be exhibited will be four different sets of beautiful Chinese ginger jars by Mrs. Robert O. Wilson. Ginger jars are used to store ginger which is used profusely by the Chinese in their cooking. Mrs. Wilson will also show two large plates of fine Chinee porcelain, which were given to her by the American Consul in the Embassy at Nanking.

Mrs. Wilson's husband, Dr. Wilson, was born in Nanking but came to the United States for his medical training. Following this, he, accompanied by his wife, returned to Nanking as a medical missionary. The couple's oldest daughter, Elizabeth, was born there. During the Communistic invasion Mrs. Wilson and Elizabeth returned to the United States but Dr. Wilson stayed on during the occupation. It was at that time that he obtained many pieces of their fine collection when the old Chinese families found it necessary to sell their treasures.

Paintings

Another display will be the paintings of Mrs. John W. McDowell, a member of the club who came to Arcadia two years ago from Kansas City. Her hobby of painting in oil developed after her husband's retirement and their move to California.

Oil paintings have always held a fascination for Mrs. McDowell but because of a busy social and business life there was not enough time for it. She believes that everyone should have a hobby because of its therapeutic value and because it keeps one from being self absorbed. Mrs. McDowell gives credit to her teacher, Mrs. Hilda Bristow of El Monte, for helpful encouragement.

Other Junior Women's Club members who will exhibit paintings are Mrs. Kenneth Ward, oil, and Mrs. Walter Garrison, oil. This exhibit will be entered under the direction of the Penney Art Dept. of the Junior Woman's Club of Arcadia of which Mrs. Kenneth Ward is chairman.

Lamps

Mr. and Mrs. Parmer Ickes are contributing greatly to the show by displaying their beautiful and complete collection of miniature lamps. The lamps have been collected over a period of 20 years. Many of them are rare and difficult to find. The lamps are in various shapes and are either the fairy or kerosene type. On special occasions Mrs. Ickes lights some of them for use. The interesting variety of lamps will be seen in milk glass, Nilsea, Quershot, Burmease, Auberina, satin glass, lutz, cranberry, Dresden and Thousand Eye in shades varying from clear to pinks, blue, green, peach and amber.

One of the rarest lamps in the entire collection is a Santa Claus of milk glass, and it is one of three to be found in the United States.

Mr. Ickes' interesting collection of still or penny banks with a few of his mechanical banks will add great interest to the show.

Through the courtesy of Mel Pratt of the Arcadia Music Mart, organ music will be played during the show. Floral arrangements will be executed by Mrs. George Coates. A door prize will be given.

PAINTINGS — Mrs. Charles C. Coulter, right, member of Arcadia Junior Womans' Club, and Mrs. J. W. McDowell, of the Senior Club, will enter their paintings of the Antique, Hobby and Collectors Show of the Arcadia Woman's Club on Wednesday and Thursday. —

Woman's Club Antique Show Opens to Large Crowd; Closes Tonight

The "Antique, Hobby and Collectors" show of the Woman's Club of Arcadia opened yesterday in the clubhouse at 324 South First Ave. to a large crowd of enthusiastic visitors. The show is running again today from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. The public is invited to attend. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

Among the beautiful exhibits on display is a collection of Currier and Ives prints, entered by an Arcadia woman. Currier and Ives were popular print makers for the American public starting in 1830 when printing was just beginning. The original ones were made on stone with crayons, and etched out through the years until about 1890 when the process became more refined.

Currier and Ives were the principal means of people getting cheap pictures in their homes and they were sold at the general stores. They were also used like newspapers.

Paintings

Mrs. O. E. Cummins, mother of the club president, Mrs. William Adams, is exhibiting her pastel paintings. Mrs. Cummins graduated from Otis Art Institute when well past middle age, and she has since studied under various teachers.

Mrs. Cummins had always had a flair for designing and has created her own designs for clothes and in wool coloring. She does all the research for perfecting a picture in respect to period, costuming, background, creating an authentic likeness.

The frames of the pictures are designed and made by her, she carves the wood and covers them with gold leaf.

Mrs. Cummins carved the beds for her own home. They are solid black walnut designed in the early Spanish period complete with carved highboy chest to match.

Silver Cup

Among the heirlooms that are being shown by Mrs. Richard S. Cole are a silver cup and spoon, made of coins given her great grandfather, Elder John Smith. The cup was made in 1815, a gift to him from one of his churches, and was carried by him in his saddlebags as he rode about on his circuit.

He was one of the first evangelists of the Christian Church in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Mrs. Cole is also showing her button collection. The buttons were used by Elder Smith and his family and are nearly all of glass, although carved wood, vegetable, ivory and metal are on the string. There are many "paperweight" buttons, the smallest being ¾ inches in size.

Mrs. Cole is also showing brass candlestick with good polished crystal prisms, which was one of the wedding gifts of Mrs. Cole's grandmother in 1865.

The Coles came to Arcadia from Harman Air Force Base in Newfoundland, and besides being active in the Arcadia Woman's Club, Mrs. Cole also takes an active part in the Thursday Morning Garden Club, and the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Transfiguration.

Other hobbyist who have entered the show include: Lannea Melziau, mosaics; Grace Day, wood carving; Arthur Fox, wood turnings; gavels, bowls and lamps; Stella Chalmers, lace making; Jane Allen, textile painting; Mary Carpenter, decorated cakes; Mrs. F. Baumeister, wood carving, and Howard Brooks, wood burning.

Collections

Collectors include Mrs. Oscar Chagnon, silver; Mrs. Harlan Lindell, antique furniture; Mrs. Agulla Pon, old china; Mrs. George Mathieu, hand painted china, and Mrs. Robert Gee, Austrian glass.

Antique collectors: Mrs. Frank Barbour, teak cabinet and linen; Mrs. E. M. Allison, Chinese wine pots, tea pots and snuff bottles; Mrs. William Bauman, Meisseu and French period furniture; Mrs. Alert Marchetti, complete set of antique china in the flowering Blue pattern and Vintage silver.

Literature Section to Hear Book Review

The Literature Dept. of Arcadia Woman's Club will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. John Richardson, 648 West Camino Real, at 9:45 a.m. Mrs. Judith Moore of the Arcadia Public Library will give a book review.

Art Department Continues With Hat Project

The Arts and Craft Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia met last week under the supervision of Mrs. Helen Taylor. Members continued with the making of hats which was started at the last meeting. Some members decorated fancy bottles with glitter and braids, others made pretty color felt cases for scissors.

Rose Lane and Harriet Leitz were refreshment chairmen for the noon luncheon, after which Mrs. Charles Johnson, chairman of the department, held a business meeting. Three new members welcomed to the department were Mrs. M. Bowen, Mrs. Edward Kaurin and Mrs. E. L. Mohler.

Plans were set for the decorations to be made by the Art Department for the coming flower show. Decorating of Easter eggs and other Easter novelties will be the program for the March meeting.

Plans also were made for a pot-luck luncheon and Easter parade of hats for the April meeting.

Evening Department to Meet at Titgemeyers'

The Evening Department of Arcadia Woman's Club will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Virginia Titgemeyer, 305 San Miguel Dr. Co-hostesses will be Dorothy Brayton and Virginia Anger, and reservations can be made by calling HIllcrest 7-0128.

The department will have its husband's dinner on Thursday, Feb. 27, at the clubhouse, reservations for which may be made with the chairman, Timmy Petersilge, HIllcrest 7-0700.

Arcadia Club Has Guests

ARCADIA — Goals of the world wide Federation of Women's Clubs were discussed by Mrs. Guy J. Nelson, California Federation president, on the Federation and Reciprocity Day program Wednesday at the Arcadia Woman's Club.

Activities of the five million members are directed toward public welfare, Mrs. Nelson pointed out, citing civic beautification and glasses for schoolchildren as examples of beneficial projects sponsored by club women.

Honored Guests

Mrs. Dwight R. Young, Verdugo District president, and Mrs. Robert Wah Lee, district president of the Juniors, were among the honored guests welcomed by Mrs. William Adams, Arcadia Club president. A capacity crowd, including presidents of other clubs and past presidents of the Arcadia club, attended the annual event.

Table decorations, supervised by Mrs. Clark Bridgman, featured manzanita branches, spring flowers and miniature dolls. Favors were miniature flower - adorned hats and sachets.

Program Feature

Three talented Arcadia club members, Bette Van Day, Dorothy Greiner and Sally Manley, presented excerpts from the operetta, "Hansel and Gretel." Each of the trio has made her debut professionally and has sung leading roles in operas or operettas from Broadway to California.

Additional highlights of the program were numbers by the woman's club chorus and selections by Mmes. Leroy Anderson, violinist; Clark Bridgman, flutist; Ahlert Stuhrman, pianist, and A. M. Laray, vocalist.

AN EXCITING moment in the production of 'Hansel and Gretel' given last Wednesday by the Music department of the Arcadia Woman's Club is shown here when the old witch (Bette Van Day) is threatening Hansel and Gretel played by Sally Manley, left and Dorotry Greiner. The house of the witch was the creation of Ahlert Stuhrman.

Arcadia Woman's Club Presents Outstanding Program At Annual Reciprocity Day Observance; Visitors Welcome

An outstanding program was a feature of the annual Reciprocity Day observance last Wednesday at the Arcadia Woman's Club. It was the Music department's "day" and decorations and the program were courtesy of the department.

The program, which featured a scene from the third act of "Hansel and Gretel" was presented by Mrs. Bette Van Day as the old witch, Mrs. Sally Manley, Gretel, and Mrs. Dorothy Greiner as Hansel. The delightful old fairytale by Jacob and Wilhelm Grimm which was made into an opera by Humperdinck, has always been a favorite with audiences and last Wednesday's group of clubwomen were no exception.

All three performers attended Julliard School of Music in New York City, have background of opera and concert work, and also all three have appeared in Hansel and Gretel. Mrs. Greiner in Chicago, Mrs. Manley in New York City and Mrs. Van Day recently had the role of the witch with the Eutrepe Opera group in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Albert Stuhrman, herself a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, was accompanist. The delightful house of the witch and the 'oven' were created by Stuhrman.

Trio

Also on the program was the talented instrumental trio made up of Mmes. Florence Anderson, violinist, who received her training in Norway, Mrs. Marian Bridgeman, flutist, formerly first flutist with the Chicago Women's Symphony, and with Mrs. Stuhrman at the piano.

Mrs. Alfred LaRay, who is known throughout the San Gabriel Valley for her singing of folk songs moved her hearers with her lovely voice. Mrs. Helen Cartwright accompanied her at the piano.

The program closed with the chorus singing three numbers, directed by Mrs. Vivian Jordan. The chorus consists of Mmes. Marjorie LaRay, Janet Schick, Bea Slover, Betty Logan, Alice McAbery, Florence Anderson, Jane Childry, Ethel Frentress, Lola Trew, Jessie Stewart, Louise Thombs, Bette Van Day, Virginia Stuhrman and Mary Jean Foy. Mrs. Cartwright accompanied at the piano and Mrs. Bridgeman with the flute.

The lovely decorations featured doll and spring flowers. Mrs. Slover made the dolls.

Business

Mrs. Williams Adams, president, graciously welcomed members and distinguished guests, and also past presidents, who were guests of the day.

Among those present were Mrs. Guy J. Nelson, state president of CFWC, Mrs. Dwight R. EVENING DEPARTMENT HOSTS HUSBANDS AT POTLUCK

Members of the Evening department of the Womens Club of Arcadia entertained their husbands at a planned potluck dinner at the clubhouse. Mrs. Petersilge, chairman, and her committee arranged the attractive buffet and tables. Each husband received a favor. Mrs. Bert Schaar planned the interesting entertainment for the evening. During dinner Andy Anderson and his five-piece orchestra played.

The speaker of the evening, Chris Gugas, while in the U. S. Marine Corps, established the present lie detection program for the Criminal Investigation Department of the Marine Corps. Following his discharge in 1949 he spent four years in Government Service in Europe as a police consultant. On his return from Europe he was reappointed assistant security chief for the Los Angeles City School District. He resigned that position in 1956 to enter the field of commerce.

Gugas' principal subject was in the field of divorce. He said that each husband and wife should work harder at making their marriage a success. He has conducted thousands of polygraph (lie detector) tests in order to save marriages, and has found that so many people forget the "small things" that are so important. We hurry too much and don't have time for our home and our children and we don't work hard enough in every day living. Gugas emphasized the fact that "the family that prays together stays together."

First Subject

Mrs. Earl Towsley, chairman of the department, was the first subject of the lie detector test. She was unable to keep the machine from detecting which coin she held, also her native state was determined. The Polygraph checks blood pressure, pulse and breathing in its use and no one has been successful in confusing it. William Moore was also a subject and he was told not to answer the questions asked, however his reactions were clearly recorded. Gugas then conducted a question period and everyone was invited to inspect the polygraph machine.

Club Department Hears Interior Decorator Speak at Bullock's

Members and guests of the Evening Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia recently enjoyed an informative program held at Bullocks Pasadena when Mrs. M. C. Young of the interior decorating department talked about the new trend in home furnishings.

She said that as the size of the world shrank we have seen and incorporated into our homes the best from many countries. There had been four distinct types of decor—Eighteenth Century, Early American, Provincial and Contemporary—but now these themes are intermingled and mixed with no limitation but good taste and good balance.

New Trend

The new trend mixes various woods, lovely glass and a casual elegance brought together with color. The newest color combination is Capri blue—a true blue from Italy— with melon and used with an abundance of white. Mrs. Young said that each object used in a room should be adopted and adapted to the personality and taste of the family and should consider the measure of formality of the living. She closed with the observation that lighting is of the greatest importance—it can make or break a room.

Mrs. Earl C. Towsley, chairman of the department, conducted the short business meeting. Each member introduced her guests and Mrs. William Adams, president of the Woman's Club, was presented. Mrs. E. W. Stevens was introduced as a new member of the department.

"May Daze"

The "May Daze" luncheon will be held Thursday, May 1, at the club. Mrs. Robert Clark and Mrs. Ken Brayton are co-chairmen. All money raised at this event is used for the Christmas project of furnishing gifts for the children in foster homes and tickets may be obtained from members of the department.

The nominating committee was selected by the members. The chairman is Mrs. Catherine Dennis, and serving with her will be Mrs. Muriel Schuerer and Mrs. Frances Hadaway.

Club Stages 'Home-Sewn' Style Show

ARCADIA — The salad bar luncheon meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club last week was highlighted by a "home - sewn" fashion show, presented by the Juniors. Apparel was made and designed by the women with an eye to smartness and economy. Ensembles included all phases of a wardrobe. Easter and play outfits for the children also were featured.

Mrs. Lee Darrow served as commentator. The Juniors planned the attractive Easter appointments at the luncheon.

Mrs. Edward Schaar, Junior president, presented the Senior group with the organization's gift of appreciation —two metal dining tables for the clubhouse.

Mrs. William Adams, president of the Arcadia Woman's Club welcomed guests. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, safety chairman for the club, read a resolution to be forwarded to Verdugo District. The resolution makes a request for all ambulance drivers and drivers of first-aid vehicles, to complete a course in first aid training.

SEWING TALENT of members of the Arcadia Woman's Club Juniors was demonstrated last week at the salad bar luncheon and fashion show held by the Arcadia Woman's Club. Juniors Present Fashion Parade At Arcadia Woman's Club Meet

One of the most enjoyable programs of the Arcadia Woman's Club year was one presented recently by the Junior Club members, who put on a fashion show featuring frocks, suits, sun clothes, cocktail and play dresses, as well as many garments they had made for their children.

Mrs. Lee H. Darrow was commentator, and described all showings as to material and cost, as well as patterns used. Many were original designs.

Luncheon

Buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. James Skinner and Mrs. Ahlert Stuhrman and their committee, Mmes. Irwin Logan, Wayne Jones, Thomas Hughes, J. R. Sevrin, Frank Clark, Earl Towsley, William Orr, Richard Cole, Ralph George, Rose Lane and R. E. Hadady.

Juniors decorated the tables in the Easter theme of pink and white, and after luncheon, Mrs. Schaar presented the Senior Club with two new metal banquet tables.

Mrs. Adams held a short business meeting after the program in order that action might be taken on a resolution prepared by Mrs. Bruce McAbery, safety chairman, who said that while in cities and large communities the drivers of ambulances and other vehicles who go to the aid of the ill or injured, are well prepared to deal with the situation, in some towns the drivers are often not so well prepared, and in many cases have not had any real training in first aid.

Therefore a resolution was drawn up to be presented to the resolutions committee of the Verdugo District asking that "all persons driving or in charge of vehicles going to the aid of the ill or injured, be required to have a current certificate in first aid. Such forethought will prevent a condition being aggravated by lack of knowledge on the part of the driver." The resolution met with the unanimous approval of Woman's Club members.

Journalist Will Address Arcadia Club

ARCADIA—Marjorie Wright Sharpe, journalist, lecturer and commentator, will be guest speaker at the April 2 luncheon meeting of Arcadia Woman's Club.

Mrs. Sharpe, who will be introduced by Mrs. Lyman G. Vollentine, program chairman, will discuss outstanding books and authors.

Radio Director

Mrs. Sharpe began her career as a free lance writer for newspapers, as a reviewer and later editor. She currently is director of women's activities for radio station KITO in San Bernardino. Her program, "Ladies in the News," recently won her the award sponsored by the Women of the West.

The program will be sponsored by the Literature Department, under the supervision of Mrs. John Richardson.

Luncheon Meeting

Mrs. William Adams, club president, will preside at the 11:30 meeting.

Reservations must be made before 6 p.m. Monday, March 31, with Mrs. Elmer Hodson, AT 6-7427 or Mrs. Daniel Mulcahy at HI 7-1623.

Arcadia Woman's Club International Hostess Fetes Distinguished Guest

Rhys G. Meier, assistant editor of the Rhodesia Herald of Salisbury, in Southern Rhodesia, was a visitor recently in Arcadia at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parnham. He was also taken on a tour of the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum by Dr. Louis S. Martin.

Mr. Meier is in the United States for a three-month study of American newspapers as a guest of the State Department. The Federation of Women's Clubs endorses and supports the program of the State Department through its international hostess department. Mrs. Parnham is international hostess of the Arcadia Woman's Club.

The Parnhams hosted a dinner and soiree for their distinguished guest at their home, 615 West Longden Ave.

Mr. Meier, a well informed and brilliant speaker, gave a most interesting discussion of his country and world affairs. Rhodesia is in the tropics; it is high country lying between 3,500 and 5,000 feet, but it never has any snow. Its principal crop is tobacco and Salisbury is the biggest single market place for tobacco in the world. The production, however, is only a fraction of the United States crop, Mr. Meier said.

Future

He stated that since his arrival in the United States many Americans have told him that they regard Africa, with its vast stores of mineral wealth as yet untapped, as the continent of the future. In the field of human relations it is the continent which will decide the future of East-West relations; Africa is the last frontier between Eastern and Western civilizations and in Africa the two civilizations must come to terms, he said.

Mr. Meier applauded the United States' missionary work in education. He emphasized that U.S. and Russia must come to terms. He plans to return to his homeland on May 11 by plane.

Books and Authors To Be Topic of Woman's Club Talk

The Arcadia Woman's Club will hold its first meeting of the month Wednesday at the clubhouse with luncheon to be served at 11:30 a.m.

Mrs. Lyman Vollentine, program chairman, will present Marjorie Bright Sharpe, journalist, lecturer and commentator, in a talk on "Notable Books and Authors." Mrs. Sharpe began her career as a free lance feature writer for newspapers and periodicals. She has been a reviewer of books, editor, and is now director of the women's activities program on KITO radio of San Bernardino. Her commentary, "Ladies in the News," recently won her the Frances Holmes Achievement Award, sponsored by the Advertising Women of the West, and the Los Angeles Advertising Club.

Wednesday's program is sponsored by the Literary department of the Woman's Club, Mrs. John Richardson chairman.

Luncheon reservations must be made before 6 p.m. today with Mrs. E. Hodson, ATlantic 6-7427, or Mrs. D. Mulcahy, HIllcrest 7-1623.

Indonesian Lady Speaks at Parnham Home

Mrs. Sa Sen Biwjong, a gracious and well educated Chinese lady of Indonesia, was guest speaker last week at the weekly Bible workshop at the home of Mrs. Joseph Parnham. She was accompanied to the meeting by Mrs. Joseph Ronstad, Mrs. Burton Johnson and Mrs. C. A. Wirth, of the Temple City Woman's Club.

A potluck luncheon was served following the meeting.

That afternoon, Mrs. Johnson, who is international affairs chairman for the Temple City Woman's Club, escorted the visitor on a tour of super markets, department stores and the Huntington Library.

That evening, Mrs. Biwjong and Mr. and Mrs. Ronstad were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Horn at their home, 314 East Sycamore, Arcadia.

ARCADIA WOMAN'S CLUB CHORUS TO SING AT DISTRICT CONVENTION

Mrs. Clark Bridgeman entertained members of the Music department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia at her home for the regular meeting.

The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, rehearsed in preparation for the district convention to be held April 22 at the Huntington-Sheraton in Pasadena. J. Arthur Lewis, well known choral director and music coordinator for the city of Los Angeles, will direct the combined women's chorus on that day.

Mrs. Leonard Cartwright, member of the department and accompanist for the choir, has been chosen to play for the concert.

Two special rehearsals have been called in preparation for this event. April 11 at 9:45 a.m. the Monrovia Woman's Club chorus will join the Arcadia club for rehearsal, and on April 14 the Arcadia club will join the combined chorus at the Wednesday Morning Club in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Archie Slover, department chairman, announces that the department will sponsor a bake sale at the clubhouse to raise money for the science and fine arts scholarship fund. Mrs. George Blanchard is in charge of this.

Mrs. Alfred LaRay, accompanied by Mrs. Cartwright, presented a program of folk songs and spirituals with interesting commentary on her various songs.

Mrs. LeRoy Anderson and Mrs. Robert Ferrante were hostesses of the day.

Others attending were Mmes. Joseph Parnham, Alby Foy, Samuel Nock, E. J. Frentress, Thatcher Jordan, Archie Slover, Harvey Moss, Irwin Logan, Harvey Thoombs, Della Cox, Ahlert Stuhrman, Ted Danziart, William Vogel, Harvey Snyder, George Blanchard, Dorothy Greiner, Eugene Cummiskey, Ariel Hoegee, Archie Wilson, junior past president, Leonard Cartwright, Alfred LaRay and Jane Childrey.

Japanese Arrangements, Musicale in Arcadia Flower Show Spotlight

Rare plants and shrubs from Los Angeles State and County Arboreteum in Arcadia will provide a background for the Arcadia Woman's Club spring flower exhibit Thursday from 1:30 until 9 p.m. in the club.

* * *

MRS. ROBERT Gardner, chairman of the club's garden and home department, announced that the show will not be competitive but will feature the usual flower show categories including specimen blooms, spot arrangements and table settings.

Mrs. Gene Johnson, who learned Japanese flower arrangement at the Ikenobo school in Japan, will demonstrate the art between 2 and 3 o'clock. A musicale will follow her demonstration.

Tea will be served throughout the afternoon and evening. Arcadia High School's chorus will present a musical program at 8 o'clock.

Arcadia Woman's Club Garden Show to Feature Oriental Art

ARCADIA—A garden and home exhibit loom importantly on the April calendar for the Arcadia Woman's Club.

The exhibit, according to John Richardson, vice man of the club's Garden Department, will be held April 10 from 1:30 until 9 p. m. at the clubhouse. Mrs. E. J. Verhoef is event chairman.

Day-Long Session

A full day has been planned beginning with the appearance of Mrs. Jean Johnson at 2 p. m. Mrs. Johnson, who studied floral art in Japan, will demonstrate Oriental flower arrangements.

A musicale has been planned for 3 p. m. The evening program will be provided by the Arcadia High School chorus.

The event is open to the general public. A special invitation has been issued to all clubwomen and garden enthusiasts residing in the valley. Featured will be arrangements by all departments of the club, with each of these exhibits depicting the various departments' special activities.

Plant Sale

Club members will show floral specimens as an added attraction. A plant sale also is scheduled for the afternoon and evening show. An added attraction will be an elaborate display of tropicals by the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum.

Tea is to be served throughout hours of the show.

Candidates Named by Arcadia Club

ARCADIA — Report of the nominating committee was of top interest at last week's meeting of the Arcadia Woman's Club.

The report, read by Mrs. Freeman Gates, named Mrs. William Gibbs as candidate for the club presidency. Mrs. E. J. Fuerst was nominated for the office of first vice president; Mmes. Leonard C. Brooks, second vice president; William Cosgrove, recording secretary; Lawrence V. Shepherd, corresponding secretary; Clark Bridgmen, federation secretary; Philip R. Sherk, treasurer; E. J. Verhoef, senior trustee; Oscar Chagnon, junior trustee; Bert Schaar, ways and means, and Chester C. Anderson, program chairman.

Afternoon Program

Marjorie Bright Sharpe, introduced by Mrs. Lyman Vollentine, program chairman, reviewed new books and told about well known authors during the afternoon program.

Mrs. John Richardson, chairman of the Literature Section, presented her board of Mmes. C. C. Anderson, vice chairman; E. J. Fentress, recording secretary; T. R. Hughes, treasurer; P. B. Keeler, corresponding secretary; C. F. Ganther, courtesy; Rose Lane, publicity; William Moberg, coffee; G. W. Blanchard, projects; A. L. Wilson, hospitality and district chairman of literature, and J. T. Simpson, by-laws.

Aid Blind

Mrs. Richardson announced her department has decided to continue its annual project of contributing toward the translation of a magazine into braille for the blind.

Mrs. George Blanchard asked that all poetry and literature to be entered in the annual contest be turned in promptly. A booklet is published each year containing the selections.

Entries, in order to be eligible, must be written by members and must be original.

Mrs. William Adams, president, announced the district convention will be April 21 and 22 at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel. The state conclave is set for May 12-15 at the Palace Sheraton in San Francisco. Delegates from Arcadia will be Mmes. Adams, Gibbs, Alby Foy and Rose Lane.

Table and lounge decorations for the meeting were the work of Mrs. Charles Killingsworth and her committee of Mmes. William Moberg, Homer Brown, and Kenneth Leslie. All white lilies and camellias were arranged with greenery.

Verdugo Officers Revealed

Installation of officers concluded last week's two-day convention of Verdugo District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel.

Mrs. Guy J. Nelson, state president, officiated at the ceremony which followed luncheon in the hotel's ballroom. Likening the district to a federation flag ship and its executive board to the crew, she installed Mrs. Howard Chandler of La Crescenta Woman's Club as president.

Official Slate

Others taking office were Mmes. Alby R. Foy of Arcadia club, first vice president; Edward D. Wylie, Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale, second vice president; John C. Parry, Parliamentary Law Club of Glendale, recording secretary; F. Louis Arnold, Monrovia Woman's Club, federation extension secretary.

Mmes. Wilbur G. Wenslaff, South Pasadena Club., treasurer; Harold Deavel, South Pasadena, financial secretary; Warren J. Dunlap, Monrovia Club, auditor; Irvin H. Morley, Altadena Club, director-at-large, and Frank Snell, Parliamentary Law Club of Glendale, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Dwight R. Young, concluding her term as president, was presented a silver tea and coffee service by her board. Another gift was a replica of the gavel, this given Mrs. Young by her twin sister, Mrs. Willard Mc Callum, and by close friends and fellow club members Mrs. J. B. Atkisson and Mrs. Harvey E. Neis.

Program Feature

Entertainment, immediately following the luncheon at flower decked tables, was provided by the district's combined chorus. It was the premiere performance of this group organized by Mrs. Lee O. Tenney of Arcadia, district music chairman.

The vocalists, concluding their songs with an aria from "Carmen," were presented by Mrs. J. Arthur Lewis of San Gabriel whose husband has been serving as their director. Clubs represented in the chorus were Altadena, Arcadia, Monrovia, La Crescenta, Sunland, Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale and the Wednesday Morning Club.

Society and Clubs

GUESTS FROM COMMUNITIES throughout San Gabriel Valley attended the home and garden show staged last week by the Arcadia Woman's Club. Magnificent displays of rare plants and shrubs, floral arrangements and table settings were exhibition highlights. Entertainment was provided during the afternoon by Mrs. Gene Johnson, Oriental flower arrangement expert, who demonstrated her art. Receiving laurels for the success of the annual event were, above from left, Mmes. L. V. Shepherd, assistant chairman; E. J. Verhoef, chairman; Richard S. TRADITIONAL TECHNIQUE—Mrs. Gene Anderson, speaker at Arcadia Woman's Club Garden and Home Show, prepares flower arrangement in Japanese method for Mrs. Rovert V. Gardner and Mrs. William Adams.

Japan Flower Art Demonstrated

ARCADIA — The Japanese find peace, tranquility and harmony in arranging flowers, Mrs. Gene Johnson, expert in the art, told her audience at the Garden and Home Show sponsored by the Arcadia Woman's Club yesterday.

Mrs. Johnson demonstrated various types of arrangements while lecturing to the group. Each spray and leaf has its rightful place, and each must face in the correct direction, she said.

She was quite privileged, while in Japan, to study the Ikenobo method of arranging, under the 45th generation of Ikenobos to instruct in what has come to be considered the classical arrangement, she explained.

A certain technique and certain plants often indicate what special event is being observed by a Japanese family, she said.

In Japan, a bouquet is handed to a person in what we would consider upside down. She soon learned to do almost the exact opposite of what she would do in America, she said, in an effort to do the correct thing there.

Mrs. Johnson demonstrated that all arrangements stem from a basic design of three points of a triangle. She emphasized that background is also important.

Music was provided by choral groups of the Arcadia High School, directed by James Neumeister.

Chairman of the event was Mrs. E. J. Verhoef, assisted by Mrs. L. V. Shepherd.

Other committee chairmen were Mrs. William Moberg and Mrs. Edward Kaurin, tea table; Mrs. Richard Cole, publicity; Mrs. N. E. Stadig, table settings; Mrs. Earl Dettra, specimens; Mrs. C. F. Noack, plant sale; and Mrs. John Richardson, programs.

The stage was transformed into a tropical garden by staff members of the Arboretum.

Sparkling Book Reviews Highlight April Meeting of Woman's Club

Members and guests of the Arcadia Woman's Club enjoyed a delightful speaker at the April 2 meeting when Mrs. Lyman Vollentine, program chairman, presented Marjorie Bright Sharpe in sparkling reviews of new books and well known authors. Those who had read the books enjoyed the new highlights she provided, and those who had not, received interested incentive. Mrs. Sharpe was sponsored by the Literature Department.

Mrs. William Adams, club president, introduced Mrs. John Richardson, chairman of the Literature Department, who introduced members of her board. Those present were Mmes. C. C. Anderson, vice chairman; E. J. Frentress, recording secretary; T. R. Hughes, treasurer; P. B. Keeler, corresponding secretary, C. F. Ganther, courtesy; Rose Lane, publicity; William Moberg, coffee; G. W. Blanchard, projects, A. L. Wilson, hospitality and district chairman of literature; J. T. Simpson, by-laws.

Report of the Nominating committee was read by Mrs. Freeman Gates, as follows:

President, Mrs. William Gibbs; first vice president, Mrs. E. J. Fuerst; second vice president, Mrs. Leonard C. Brooks; recording secretary, Mrs. William A. Cosgrove; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lawrence V. Shepherd; federation secretary, Mrs. Clark Bridgman; treasurer, Mrs. Philip R. Sherk; senior trustee, Mrs. E. J. Verhoef; junior trustee, Mrs. Oscar Chagnon; ways and means, Mrs. Bert C. Schaar; program, Mrs. Chester C. Anderson.

Election will be held on April 16.

Table and lounge decor was planned and carried out by Mrs. Charles Killingsworth and her committee, Mmes. William Moberg, Homer Brown, and Kenneth Leslie. All white flowers, lilies and camellias were used, with appropriate foliage.

Mrs. Richardson announced that her department had decided to continue its project of contributing $15 for the purpose of translating a magazine into Braille for the blind. The department has sponsored this for some time.

Mrs. George Blanchard advised that all poems, articles or stories which are to be entered in annual contest must be in promptly. A booklet is published each year containing the prize-winning selections, as well as other articles written by the members.

In order to be eligible, each item must be written by the member and be original. This is a great incentive toward creative writing as well as self expression. No entry shall contain more than 250 words, and need not be typed.

Mrs. Adams announced that the district convention would be held April 21-22 at the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena.

The state convention will be held at the Palace Sheraton, San Francisco, May 12-15. Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Gibbs, Mrs. Alby Foy and Mrs. Rose Lane will be among the delegates attending from Arcadia.

Arcadia Chorus To Sing at District Conclave

J. Arthur Lewis, Los Angeles music coordinator and prominent choral director, will direct the combined choruses of the Verdugo District CWC nextweek at the convention at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel. He administers a unique musical program, the progress of which is being watched with great interest by musicians, educators and city officials throughout the country.

For the first time, members of the Arcadia Woman's Club chorus will join with other groups in presenting a program. Other clubs taking part will be Sunland, La Crescenta, Glendale, Monrovia, Altadena and the Wednesday Morning Club.

The combined choral group has long been a dream of district music chairman, Mrs. Lee Tenney. The Arcadia club's own Helen Cartwright will accompany the chorus.

The Arcadia club's chorus is a music department project and Mrs. Thatcher Jordan is director.

Ardene Boller To Talk to Evening Group

Evening Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will meet next Monday, April 21, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. James P. Frazer, 600 North Old Ranch Rd. Ardene Boller, Arcadia attorney, will speak in the subject of wills, safety deposit boxes and other important items women should consider very seriously. This program will be one from which each member should gain a great deal of knowledge.

Final plans for the "May Daze" salad bar luncheon, to be held Thursday, May 1, will be announced by Mrs. Jack Bosworth. This event will be the first of two card parties given by the Evening Department to raise funds for the annual Christmas project. For the past several years, the department has furnished gifts for children in foster homes in the San Gabriel Valley at Christmas time. Each gift is purchased for a specific age child and in addition skirts are made by members for the teenage girls and sweaters to match are purchased. Approximtaely 200 gifts are purchased and Christmas wrapped each year. The luncheon will be held at the Woman's Club and tickets are available from any member of the Evening Department or from Mrs. J. W. Scheuer, HIllcrest 7-3194.

Reservations for the regular meeting may be made by calling Mrs. Earl Kennedy, HIllcrest 6-5535, or Mrs. Alan Langlois, HIllcrest 7-6980.

Verdugo District CFWC to Elect Officers At Annual Convention at Huntington

Continuing the theme of the administration, "The Mind to Know, the Heart to Love, the Will to Serve," two-year-old Verdugo District, California Federation of Women's Clubs' second convention with Mrs. F. Louis Arnold general chairman, will convene in the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel, Pasadena, April 21 and 22. Election, installation of officers and presentation of awards will highlight the two-day event.

Registration opens at 8:15 a.m. April 21 as delegates and visitors from the 25 clubs forming this district gather. Mrs. Dwight R. Young, president, will call the convention to order at 9 a.m. Mrs. Robert Greene, president of Woman's Club of South Pasadena, club hostessing the convention, will introduce the Hon. Seth Miller, mayor of Pasadena, and Joel Sheldon, representative of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce. The election polls will be open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Giving a youth's viewpoint on housing, customs, education and religion by comparison of his country and ours, Hannes Friedrich, an exchange student from Germany sponsored by the American Friends Service, is the luncheon speaker. Other activities at the conclave will include routine business, amendments to by-laws and reports of officers, chairmen and club presidents.

The 7 p.m. awards banquet honoring one hundred presidents and vice-presidents is the center of interest. Mrs. Robert Wah Lee, president of the Verdugo Metropolitan District, Junior Membership, will tell of the year's accomplishments of that group. Mrs. Glenn R. Cook, program chairman, will present a 30 voice boys' choir selected by audition from the various Pasadena schools, in a concert of secular and sacred numbers conducted by the prominent Dr. John Henry Lyons, former music director in the Pasadena city school system whose present main interest is his Boys' Choir.

Tuesday, state president's day, will feature Mrs. G. J. Nelson, president California Federation of Women's Clubs, as special guest speaker. Culminating two years of planning, an outstanding musical program has been arranged by Mrs. Lee O. Tenney, district music chairman, to be rendered by a combined chorus of Verdugo District club members directed by J. Arthur Lewis.

The colorful installation ceremony with Mrs. Nelson giving the charges to the newly elected officers, concludes the convention Tuesday.

Floral Exhibition To Be Staged at Woman's Club

The Arcadia Woman's Clubhouse will be the scene of a most interesting event Thursday, April 10, when the Garden and Home department sponsors an exhibition with each club department participating.

Mrs. John Richardson, program chairman, has arranged for Mrs. Gene Johnson, an expert on the art of Japanese flower arranging, to give a program from 2 to 3 p.m. Mrs. Jahns lived for many years in the Islands and in Japan, and is an exponent of the Ikenobo method of arranging. The head of the school is the 45th generation to teach the art, and is called the "Treasure of Japan," having contributed so much to the beauty and culture of his country.

Following this, a musicale will be presented and in the evening the chorus of Arcadia High School will sing from 8 until 8:45.

Mrs. E. J. Verhoef is general chairman, and will be assisted by Mrs. L. V. Shepherd and the following chairmen: Mrs. C. F. Noack, plant sale; Mrs. E. H. Dettra, specimens; Mrs. William Moberg and Mrs. Edward Kaurin, tea table; Mrs. Eric Stadig, table settings and door prizes; Mrs. John Richardson, programs; Mrs. R. S. Cole, publicity.

Garden Setting

The Los Angeles State and County Arboretum will provide a tropical garden setting on the stage in the auditorium, featuring many unusual blooms and plants. The lounge will have the exhibits planned and carried out by the various departments including flower arrangements, spot arrangements, as well as other items of charm and interest. This will be a non-competitive show. Tea will be served through the afternoon and evening, and there will be many door prizes. A donation of 75 cents for the afternoon and 50 cents for the evening hours will be accepted at the door.

The public is invited and those who wish to attend both afternoon and evening will be given a ticket enabling them to return for the same donation.

Club Women To Stage Hat Parade

Arts and Crafts department of the Arcadia Woman's Club will meet at the clubhouse tomorrow at 10 a.m. H. O. Anderson of Anderson's Lamp Shade of Whittier will demonstrate "Lamp Shade Making."

There will be an Easter Parade of hats that have been made at home by members. There will be prizes for the prettiest and funniest of fresh material or artificial material.

A planned potluck lunch will be served at noon. For information call Mrs. L. B. Hatch. All members of the club are invited to come and join in the fun, and members are asked to bring their decorated Easter eggs to be used in the art exhibit of the flower show.

Club Department Fetes Husbands at Dinner

Pictures of a recent European trip made by Mr. and Mrs. Eric Stadig provided entertainment for last week's "Husbands' Night" dinner given by members of the International Affairs Department of Arcadia Woman's Club.

The planned potluck menu was built around an entree of baked ham and was served by a committee headed by Mrs. Daniel J. Slattery. Her assistants were Mr. and Mrs. Stadig, John Richardson, George Fry, Alby R. Fay and Mrs. Charles Johnson.

Arcadia Club Plans Officer Election Meet

ARCADIA — Election of new officers will be held Wednesday by the Arcadia Woman's Club.

The polls, it is announced by Mrs. William Adams, retiring president, will be open from 10:30 a.m., to 1:45 p.m. She urges all members to participate.

The regular buffet luncheon will be served at noon. Mmes. E. J. Verhoef and Oscar Chagnon, co - chairmen, ask that all reservations be made by this evening.

The afternoon program will be presented by the Music Department and will feature a duo piano recital by club members Mrs. Ahlert Stuhrman and Mrs. Thatcher Jordan. Mrs. Stuhrman is a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. Mrs. Jordan was a music major at the University of Southern California.

Home and Garden Show to Be Given by Arcadia Woman's Club

Mrs. E. J. Verhoef, chairman, and Mrs. L. V. Shepherd, assistant, have completed plans for the coming Garden and Home Show to be held Thursday. The clubhouse, located at 324 S. First Ave., will have exhibits prepared by each department—which indicate their interests and achievements of the past season.

The stage will be transformed into a tropical garden by the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum and will feature rare and beautiful plants and shrubs. Don Strawn of the Arcadia Feed and Seed Co. will show various types of ground-cover, and the most attractive means of planting mounds and tree-bases. George Scott of Better Gardens will have arrangements of several kinds, using planters, figurines and new containers for flower arrangements.

Mrs. John Richardson, program chairman, is happy to announce that the outstanding chorus of Arcadia High School, directed by James Neumeister, will provide the evening program. Part of the afternoon program will also feature instrumental music. Mrs. Gene Johnson, a noted artist in the field of Japanese flower arrangement, will lecture and demonstrate from 2 to 3 o'clock. Those wishing to see this part of the program are invited to arrive promptly. The doors will be open at 1:30 p.m. and the exhibit will continue until 9 p.m.

The tea table will be under the supervision of Mrs. William Moberg and Mrs. Edward Kaurin. Mrs. C. F. Noack will be in charge of the booth which will have many kinds of plants for sale. Mrs. Earl Dettra will be in charge of the specimens entered by the members. This will be on a non-competitive basis, and will add much to the interest of the show. Mrs. N. E. Stadig will be in charge of several tables set with various types of china and featuring original decorations.

Mrs. William Adams, president, and Mrs. Robert Gardner, chairman of the Garden and Home department, extend a cordial invitation to all interested in gardens and homes to attend. A donation of 50 cents will be received at the door.

LITERATURE DEPARTMENT TO MEET NEXT TUESDAY

Literature Department of Arcadia Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. H. Brown, 449 Sharon Road Tuesday morning. Coffee hour will be at 9:45. Members of the department will read their own stories and poems.

Music Section To Meet Tuesday

The Music Department of Arcadia Woman's Club will meet at 11 a.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. I. Logan, 939 Hampton Road. The program will feature young talent consisting of an oboe, flute and piano trio from the high school, and Marina LaRay, a pupil of Mrs. C. Bridgman.

Members are to bring sandwiches, and coffee and dessert will be served by the hostesses, Anita Doyle and Jane Childrey.

A chorus rehearsal at 10 a.m. will precede the meeting. A special chorus rehearsal has been set for 10 a.m. tomorrow at the clubhouse, with director J. Arthur Lewis, and another for April 14 at the Wednesday Morning Club in Los Angeles.

International Affairs Department to Meet

The International Affairs Department of Arcadia Woman's Club will meet at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. John Richardson, 648 W. Camino Real.

Co-hostess at the coffee hour will be Mrs. Karl Snyder, and the program will be given by Augustin Turner of Rotary International and three Foreign Exchange Students.

Music Program Set for Woman's Club Luncheon

The mid-month buffet luncheon will be held Wednesday at Arcadia Woman's club house. The program, sponsored by the music department, will present Mrs. Ahlert Stuhrman and Mrs. Thatcher Jordan in a duo piano selection, "Concerto in A Minor," by Edward Grieg.

These two performers are well known in the community for their musical abilities and have contributed their talents generously. Mrs. Sturhman is a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, while Mrs. Jordan majored in music at the University of Southern California.

As this will be election day, the president, Mrs. William Adams, hopes that all members will be present. Those who are not on the permanent reservations list may call Mrs. E. Hodson, ATlantic 8-7422, or Mrs. D. Mulcahy, HIllcrest 7-1623 before 6 p.m. today for reservations.

The polls will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 1:45 p.m.

Arcadia Woman's Club Wins Honors

The Woman's Club of Arcadia played a stellar role in the second annual convention of Verdugo District, California Federation of Women's Clubs held Monday and Tuesday at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena, by winning a great majority of the awards, and by having a member elected to the district board.

Mrs. Williams, president,, expressed her great joy at the achievements of the club when she returned home Tuesday "tired but happy."

Mrs. Dwight D. Young of Eagle Rock, district president, presided at the two-day meet. Mrs. Howard Chandler of La Crescenta was elected district president and Mrs. Alby Foy of the Arcadia Club was elected its vice-president.

For the first time an award was given to an individual chairman who had the most outstanding way of raising money for club purposes. This was won by Mrs. J. W. Watson, ways and means chairman, for her outstandingly successful "Antique, Hobby and Collectors' Show."

Also for the first time, an award was given to the most outstanding evening department in the district, and his was captured by the Arcadia Club, whose evening department is headed by Mrs. Earl Towsley as chairman. The department also won another award for health and welfare.

Outstanding

The other awards won by the club were: Outstanding achievement in scholarship; first place for contributing to international projects; first place for youth conservation; first place for homecraft (hobby show); Literature Department, first place for publication of prose and poetry and for study of world religions; press book, honorable mention, and honorable mention for gardening, and civic service (Arboretum).

Individual awards were given to Mrs. William Adams, president; Mrs. Oscar Chagnon, vice-president, and Mrs. Ahlert, federation extension chairman.

The Music Department's chorus joined the choral group that presented a program at convention.

ARTISTS—Mrs. Ahlert Stuhrman, left, and Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, members of the Music Department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, gave a brilliant performance at last week's luncheon meeting. They played Grieg's "Concerto in A Minor" to an enthusiastic audience.

Straubs Entertain Visitor From Helsinki, Finland

A recent visitor at the Arcadia home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Straub was Tentti Kauhala of Helsinki, Finland, who has been visiting the USA for the past several months as a guest of the State Department.

Mr. Kauhala's visit to Arcadia was arranged through the International Hostess program of the California Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Straubs found a great deal to reminisce about with their guest since they have been to Finland and have had their nephew, also from Finland, visiting with them for some time.

Another guest was Professor Hellman of UCLA, who received greetings from his father in Helsinki from Mr. Kauhala. Others present for dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Humphries of Glendora and Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Dyer of Monrovia.

Mr. Kauhala is vice-president of Rastor, Ltd., an educational and training organization in "management consultant" and has been touring some of the large plants in the United States.

The visitor said he couldn't express his impressions of America very well yet, traveling by air and seeing so much in such a short time, it would take time to evaluate everything he'd seen. He was having a good time, though, and has a good impression of Americans. "He spoke excellent English," said Mrs. Straub, "which makes me think it is too bad for those of us who go abroad that we can't return the compliment."

Woman's Club Elects New Officers; Duo-Pianists Present Fine Program

Mrs. William Gibbs was elected president of the Woman's Club of Arcadia at the regular luncheon meeting on April 16. Taking office with her were; Mmes. E. J. Fuerst, first vice-president; Leonard Brooks, second vice-president; William Cosgrove, recording secretary; L. V. Shepherd, corresponding secretary; Clark Bridgman, federation secretary; Philip Sherk, treasurer; E. J. Verhoef, senior trustee; Oscar Chagnon, junior trustee; Bert C. Schaar, ways and means, and Chester Anderson, program chairman.

Mrs. Gibbs has long been recognized as a leader in civic and cultural projects. She organized and was first president of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club, and also served as vice president and president of California State CFWC, Junior Membership. She was nominated as "Women of the Year" in 1957 and has been active in PTA. She served as president of Santa Anita PTA and the PTA Council, and is a member and past president of the Assistance League of Arcadia.

The new board will be installed at the traditional installation tea to be held June 4 at 1 p.m. in the clubhouse.

Mrs. William Adams, retiring president, introduced Mrs. Archy Slover, chairman of the Music department, that presented the program.

The duo-piano selection "Concerto in A Minor" played by Mrs. Ahlert Stuhrman and Mrs. Thatcher Jordan, on concert grand pianos, was one of the finest programs to be given at the club. It was also the first time that a two-piano program was given there.

The artists gave a brilliant performance and received an ovation from the audience.

By request they will give a repeat performance next month at a meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Fellowship of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

MRS. WILLIAM GIBBS
. . . president

Mrs. Slover introduced the Music department officers as follows: Mrs. Clark Bridgman, vice chairman and program chairman; Mrs. Ariel Hoegee, recording secretary; Mrs. Lincoln Schick, treasurer; Mrs. Leroy Anderson, hospitality; Mrs. A. M. LaRay, publicity, and Mrs. E. J. Frentress, librarian.

Mrs. N. E. Stadig was in charge of decorations, Mrs. Philip Sherk and Mrs. Lyman Vollentine were chairmen of the luncheon committee. Assisting in the preparation and serving of the delightful salad-bar were Mmes. William Moberg, Oscar Chagnon, L. V. Shepherd, P. C. Ickes, E. L. Hodson, C. Ganther, E. Kaurin, E. J. Verhoef and A. L. Weickert.

Foreign Students

Mrs. Daniel Slattery presented the club with new glass coffee and tea pots, a gift much appreciated by all members.

Mrs. Mel Caines introduced two foreign exchange students, who gave brief talks on young people and family life in France and Spain, their native countries, their impressions of America, and how they would apply knowledge gained in other countries to life in their own.

Wives of Foreign Students at Caltech Speak at Local Meeting

The International Affairs department of the Arcadia Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. John Richardson recently. Mrs. Carl Snyder was co-hostess for the coffee hour preceding the program.

Augustin Turner of Rotary International presented the wives of three foreign students who are studying at Cal Tech. Mrs. George Johansson of Sweden, whose husband is majoring in chemistry, Mrs. Harry Moerjono of Indonesia and Mrs. P. Fejla of New Zealand, whose husband is specializing in biology.

Each of the women gave a short talk on customs and education in their homelands, and all spoke excellent English.

Mr. Turner explained that at the YMCA in Pasadena for three mornings each week, retired teachers and linguists give their services to foreign students studying in this locality as an aid to practical English, and helped them to prepare their talks.

He explained the purpose of Rotary International, which is to promote friendship and understanding around the world, to encourage visits and exchange of ideas among nations, and to help students of other countries understand each other on a personal level. They also assist students in obtaining work, help with unexpected medical or other expenses, make travel arrangements for visitors traveling across the States who wish to visit other cities, or to get in touch with people from their own countries. This is done through local Rotary Clubs and the YMCA headquarters in our country and abroad.

Mrs. Joseph C. Parnham of Arcadia is International Hostess for Verdugo District, and has met and entertained many guests from other nations, as well as presenting them to interested groups.

Mrs. Daniel Slattery, chairman of the department, spoke of their recent gift of new coffee and tea pots to the club, and the planned presentation of new salt and pepper shakers as their contribution to the club kitchen.

Poetry, Prose Awards Made

The Literature Department of Arcadia Woman's Club heard readings of members' prose and poetry at its meeting last week, held at the home of Katherine Brown. The works read were some that will be published in a book made up of contributions from the department and from members of the club at large.

A first prize was awarded to Mrs. Ida Welsh for prose, and Mrs. Charles Killingsworth won first and second prize for poetry.

Events scheduled for the department include a bake sale at the clubhouse next Wednesday, election of new officers on May 20, followed by a visit to Padua Hills for luncheon.

CFWC District Officers Elected At Convention

At the Verdugo District, California Federation of Women's Clubs convention held in the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel, Pasadena, which has just closed, new officers elected to serve this district for the term 1958-1960 are:

Mrs. Howard Chandler, of the La Crescenta club, president; Mrs. Alby R. Foy, of Arcadia, first vice-president; Mrs. Edward D. Wylie, Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale, second vice-president; Mrs. John C. Parry, Parliamentary Law Club of Glendale, recording secretary; Mrs. Glen Scott, of Tujunga, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. Louis Arnold of Monrovia federation extension secretary; Mrs. Wilbur G. Wenzlaff, of South Pasadena, treasurer; Mrs. Harold R. Deavel, of South Pasadena, financial secretary; Mrs. Warren J. Dunlap, of Monrovia, auditor; Mrs. Irwin H. Morley, Altadena, director-at-large; Mrs. Frank Snell, Parliamentary Law Club, parliamentarian.

MRS. BOSWORTH TO HEAD CLUB'S EVENING GROUP

Mrs. Jack Bosworth was elected chairman of the Evening Department of the Womens Club of Arcadia at the regular meeting held last week at the home of Mrs. James P. Frazer. Assisting Mrs. Bosworth for the coming year will be Mrs. George M. Derry, vice-chairman; Mrs. Anthony Anger, financial secretary; Mrs. Doyle Lindley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. E. Hadady, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph W. Scheuer, philanthropy chairman; Mrs. Earl Kennedy, publicity; Mrs. Kelvin Turner, hospitality and Mrs. Jack Moore, telephone chairman.

Mrs. Earl C. Towsley introduced the speaker of the evening Ardene Boller, who gave a most informative talk on "The Making of a Will." He told of the origin of a written will, one of the oldest written documents taken from English Law. Mr. Boller explained the differences in holding property in Joint Tenancy and Community Property and the advantages of each. He also spoke on the scale of taxation levied on inheritances and gifts. After his talk members were to ask questions and a very interesting discussion developed. Each member felt she had gained a much clearer insight on a very important subject.

Bike Needed

Mrs. Jack Moore, philanthropy chairman, read a request from the Welfare Bureau for a large bicycle and aid for four young people graduating from High School. The Department co-operated with the Welfare Bureau during the past year as part of the Foster Childrens Christmas Project.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Alan Langlois, Mrs. Earl Kennedy and Mrs. James Frazer.

ARCADIA WOMAN'S CLUB TO GIVE SCHOLARSHIP

The Woman's Club of Arcadia is offering a scholarship of $500 to a boy or girl student at Arcadia High School meeting the club's requirements.

Besides being based on need, the winner must be a graduating senior whose scholastic record, character and citizenship is of a high quality. The scholarship will be given in either fine arts or science.

Lucy Wyss Honored by Woman's Club

"Perfect attendance for 10 years" is the record chalked up by Mrs. Lucy Wyss, at the Woman's Club of Arcadia. At last week's meeting of the club she was presented with a decorated cake holding 10 candles, and with a paid-up membership for next year.

Mrs. Wyss, who will be 82 years old next January, is a gay, active person who brings happiness wherever she goes.

Last year, the Woman's Club presented her with a lovly pin for perfect attendance.

In addition to her club activities, and she has been a member of several departments, Mrs. Wyss is an ardent worker in the Arcadia Presbyterian Church. She teaches the 2 and 3-year-olds in Sunday School and has been doing this for 16 years. She joined the church 18 years ago and is a member of the Women's Association. She received a certificate of appreciation from the church for her service.

Mrs. Wyss is secretary and treasurer of her church circle, is secretary of the Arcadia-Temple City WCTU, is a member of the Arcadia Historical Society, and is in the San Anselmo and El Cavarillo Auxiliaries.

In addition to this she has three hobbies, makes braided rugs, for which she has many orders, makes dogbone television pillows and still makes "whiz" soap.

TEN CANDLES on the decorated cake that was presented to Mrs. Lucy Wyss by the Arcadia Woman's Club denoted perfect attendance for 10 years. She is shown here with the cake which was made by Mrs. E. J. Verhoef and Mrs. E. J. Fuerst.—Arcadia Tribune photo

Mrs. Wyss was presented with her club dues for the coming year and a decorated cake with 10 candles. Others given recognition for 100-per-cent attendance during the past year were Mmes. C. F. Noack, Freeman Gates, Chester Anderson and William Adams.

Awards

The Evening Department, who sponsored the luncheon and program for the day, was presented awards for its many achievements of the year. The presentation was made by club president, Mrs. Adams, and accepted on behalf of the department by Mrs. Earl Towsley, chairman.

Members of Mrs. Towsley's board and committee for the day were Mmes. Bert Schaar, Kelvin Turner, Jack Moore, William Moore, James Frazier, George Derry, J. W. Scheuer and Robert Dennis.

Mrs. J. W. Watson and Mrs. Philip Sherk were co-chairmen of the luncheon, assisted by Mmes. L. K. Campbell, L. B. Hatch, C. L. Johnson, Russell Lucas, R. W. Wingo and H. W. Glidden.

With the installation tea next Wednesday, the club year will be completed. Meetings resume in October.
